SORE FROM KNEE TO ANKLE.

Skin entirely gone. Flesh a mass of disease. Leg diminished one third in size. Condition Hopeless. Cured by the Cuticura Remedies.

For three years I was almost crippled with an awful sore leg from my knee down to my ankle; the skin was entirely gone, and the flesh was one mass of disease. Some physicians pronounced it incurable. It had diminished about one-third the size of the other, and I was in a hopeless condition. After trying all kinds of remedies and spending hundreds of dollars, from which I got no relief whatever, I was persuaded to try your Cuticura Remedies, and the result was as follows: After three days I noticed a decided change for the better, and at the end of two months I was completely cured. My flesh was purified, and the bone (which had been exposed for over a year) got sound. The flesh began to grow, and to-day, and for nearly two years past, my leg is as well as ever it was, sound in every respect, and not a sign of the disease to be seen.

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL

Agreement on the Land Grant Forfeiture Bill.

THE PACIFIC COAST WAR CLAIMS.

An Uneventful Day in Both Houses of Congress—Torpedoes for the Navy—Readjustment of Postmasters' Salaries.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—The conferees on the land grant forfeiture bill have agreed upon all points of difference, except those involved in the first section, namely, the extent of the forfeitures. The conferees will report the result to their respective houses.

In the house, Payson will move that that body recede from its contention on the first section and accept the senate proposition, which involves the forfeiture of lands lying opposite those parts of railroad lines not completed at the date of the passage of the act.

An agreement has also been reached on the bill to protect the rights of actual settlers on public lands on the lines of the house bill.

PACIFIC COAST WAR CLAIMS.

Senator Stewart Secures the Passage of a Resolution for Their Investigation.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Senator Stewart has secured the passage through the senate of a resolution in regard to the examination of the Oregon, California and Nevada war claims.

This resolution is in substance the bill which he introduced at the last session of congress. It becoming evident that the bill would not be reached in the house, Senator Stewart consulted the war department officials and ascertained that an examination might not be had under a resolution of the senate. Upon being assured that it could, he had passed by the senate yesterday a resolution, which provides that the secretary of war, through the board of war claims examiners, is authorized and directed to examine all accounts, papers and evidence which has heretofore been or which hereafter may be submitted to them in support of the war claims of the states of California, Oregon and Nevada, growing out of the war of the rebellion, in suppressing Indian war hostilities and disturbances during the war of the rebellion, and in guarding the overland mails and emigrant routes during and subsequent to that war, and to ascertain and state what amount of money each of the states of Nevada, California and Oregon has actually expended for military purposes in aid of the government.

The secretary of war is also directed to ascertain what amount of interest was paid by each of the states on these incurred obligations.

The bill provides, also, that the secretary of war is to report to the senate his findings in the matter.

The report of the board will be an official ascertainment of the facts, and the only question for congress to determine will be whether they will pay the money disbursed by the Pacific states at the request of the president and secretary of war, or whether they will repudiate the same. The difficulty heretofore has been to ascertain the exact expenditures and have them authenticated. That difficulty is remedied by this resolution.

Senator Stewart prepared a report at the last session on these claims, giving the circumstances under which these expenditures were made.

The interest of California in these claims amounts to about $3,000,000, and the claims of Oregon and Nevada are each about $300,000.

SENATE PROCEEDINGS.

A Long Secret Session—Agreement on Important Conference Reports.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—The house amendment to the senate bill in regard to the salmon fisheries of Alaska, extending its operations to Behring sea, was presented and referred, on motion of Edmunds, to the committee on foreign relations.

The house bill granting the Wyoming Midland Railway Company the right of way through the Wind river or Shoshone Indian reservation was passed with amendment.

The postoffice appropriation bill was passed with amendments, one of which provides that there shall not be allowed for any third-class postoffice rent in excess of $600, nor fuel and lights in excess of $60 in one year.

On motion of Sherman, who said he had important business requiring consideration at once, the senate went into executive session.

When the doors were opened a large number of bills were passed.

The senate continued in secret session until 6 o'clock, when the doors were opened and the legislative business was resumed.

A conference was ordered on the naval appropriation bill, and conferrees were appointed on the part of the senate.

The conference reports on the army appropriation bill, on the fortification bill and on the bill to withdraw certain public lands from private entry, were presented and agreed to.

The senate then took a recess until 8:30 P. M.

MESSAGES FROM THE PRESIDENT.

The ten minutes executive session of the senate to-day was devoted to the receipt of messages from the president and their reference to the appropriate committees.

EXECUTIVE SESSION.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—The senate was in executive session more than three and a half hours this afternoon, during which time a large amount of business was transacted.

Early in the session the documents referred in the first executive session of the day, mostly postal treaties and international copyright arrangements with South American countries, were ratified.

A discussion of some length was held upon the question "shall the senators be authorized to publish their speeches on the British extradition treaty?" but no decision was reached.

The senate made the following confirmations: T. Carlos, of Minnesota, to be commissioner of Alaska, at Sitka; Wm. S. Rosecrans, to be brigadier general, to be retired; W. F. Smith, to be major of the engineer corps, to be retired.

EVENING SESSION.

In the senate there was no quorum and, after a tedious delay and much discussion, adjournment was taken until to-morrow.

TORPEDOES FOR THE NAVY.

Secretary Whitney Contracts for Three of Them at a Cost of $55,000.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—The secretary of the navy has entered into a contract with J. N. H. Patrick, of College Point, Long Island, to furnish three controllable automatic torpedoes of the Patrick patent, for use in the navy, at a cost of $55,000. Each torpedo is to carry 400 pounds of dynamite, and is to be guaranteed to run one statute mile at the rate of twenty knots an hour. The first is to be delivered within five months and the others within seven months.

HOUSE PROCEEDINGS.

Consideration of a Number of Conference Reports on Important Bills.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—The speaker laid before the house the senate bill for the protection of the salmon fisheries in Alaska.

Dunn, of Arkansas, offered an amendment directing the president to cause one or more United States vessels to cruise in Behring sea and other Alaskan waters and seize all vessels unlawfully engaged in seal hunting. Dunn explained that the sole object of the amendment was to enforce the existing law which has been misconstrued so that a hundred and fifty vessels are now fitting out for Behring sea. The amendment was adopted and the bill passed.

After a desultory talk, in which Bland, of Missouri, antagonized bills for public buildings with the Sullivan contest case, the speaker authorized the appointment of a committee to arrange for Harrison's inauguration.

Hatch of Missouri presented the conference report on the agricultural appropriation bill. He explained how the differences between the two houses, mainly relating to the sugar experiments, had been adjusted; agreed to.

The committee on naval affairs reported the naval appropriation bill, with senate amendments, recommending concurrence in some and nonconcurrence in others.

After a long debate the senate amendments to the bill were considered.

Herbert moved to concur in the senate amendment appropriating $100,000 for the construction of a building for use as a naval torpedo station and war college on Goat island; agreed to.

The other recommendations of the committee on naval affairs were agreed to, and the bill was sent to the conferrees.

Holmes (Iowa) called up as a privileged question the Des Moines river land bill, vetoed by the president, pending which, Crisp presented various conference reports upon bills for the establishment of various lighthouses and lights, and they were agreed to.

Steele of Indiana submitted a conference report on the bill for relief of certain volunteer soldiers of the late war and the war with Mexico; agreed to.

Peel of Arkansas submitted a conference report on the bill to divide the Sioux Indian reservation in Dakota; agreed to.

Holmes again called up the Des Moines bill, and Crisp raised a question of consideration, pending which the house took a recess. The evening session will be devoted to the consideration of resolutions relating to the acceptance of the Cass and Muhlenberg statues, and business relating to the District of Columbia.

EVENING SESSION.

At the evening session of the house, the conference reports on the fortification and army appropriation bills were agreed to, and the house adjourned.

READJUSTMENT OF SALARIES.

A Postal Claim Agent Brings Suits Against Vilas and Dickenson.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Harvey Spaulding, a claim agent of this city, has brought suits for $100,000 damages in each case against Wm. F. Vilas, former postmaster-general, and Donald M. Dickenson, the present head of the postoffice department. Spaulding also has a large number of postmasters of the third, fourth and fifth classes, who have put their claims against the government for a readjustment of their salaries into his hands and, after much labor and expense, he has secured the passage of an act by congress, directing the postmaster-general to readjust these claims. He charges both Vilas and Dickenson, in their capacity as postmaster-generals, with having assailed him in every possible way in his presentation of these claims. They have, with malicious intent to injure his business, caused drafts for the payment of the postmasters' accounts by adjustment to be sent direct to the postmasters, accompanied by circulars stating that no agent was needed to prosecute these claims, the purpose being to have plaintiff's clients believe that he (Spaulding) had rendered them no service, and that they were under no obligations to him for the fees agreed upon.

NORTHWESTERN INTERESTS.

Oregon Swamp Land Discrepancies—Resolution Presented From Portland.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—There has been received at the interior department the swamp land selections of Warner Lake valley, in Southeastern Oregon, from the government agents in the field, and from the selections it appears that of the 38,000 acres, which embrace the meadow lands of that valley, but 3000 acres are reported as arable land. It is represented from the filing of the record here that there are nearly one hundred settlers occupying that valley, and Representative Hermann has secured for them the privilege of immediately filing their affidavits as to the non-swamp character of the lands selected, and thus preventing the approval of the state claim until a decision may be reached by the department upon testimony submitted by the settlers.

Representative Hermann has submitted to the house a resolution from the Portland Typographical Union, favoring the passage of the Breckenridge international copyright law.

Senator Dolph has presented to the senate a petition of citizens of Washington territory, praying that congress pass the bill, which is now pending, authorizing the commissioners of Whitman county to issue bonds of that county for the purpose of building a court house and jail.

THE WASHINGTON AQUEDUCT.

The Congressional Investing Committee Recommend That It Be Abandoned.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—The congressional committee appointed to investigate the charges of fraud in the construction of the new Washington aqueduct, have made a report in which they say: "Beyond all question, substantially the whole and every part of the lining of the tunnel is absolutely and enormously defective, and it is scarcely too much to say that there is hardly any continuous length of ten feet in the whole lining where the bricking is, particularly over the arch of the line, that is not either absolutely wanting or only partially filled, or, where fully filled, so badly constructed as to make the whole bricking up of the lining utterly worthless."

They said it would take nearly $1,000,000 to put the tunnel in good shape, and recommend that it be abandoned, and that iron pipe be substituted, at a cost of $500,000.

THE DUDLEY LIBEL SUIT.

Plaintiff Is Not Compelled to Testify for the Defense.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Judge James, of the district court, to-day refused to push the subpena to compel Colonel Dudley to appear and give testimony for the defense in his libel suit against the New York Evening Post.

The hearing of the case was begun before Examiner Hackett. Under the advice of his counsel, Colonel Dudley declined to answer all the questions that were put to him with reference to the "blocks of five" letter.

PRESIDENTIAL APPOINTMENTS.

Commissioners Named to Examine the Southern Pacific Company's Line.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—The president has appointed Allen E. Morrison, of Perry, Ia.; George W. Bird, of Madison, Wis.; Orlando Steiley, of Louisville, Ky.; Isaac M. Weston, of Grand Rapids, Mich.; John P. Irish, of Oakland, Cal., and Alexander Gunn, of Cleveland, O., commissioners to examine that portion of the Southern Pacific railway in California.

Pension Disbursements Increase the Public Debt.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—It is estimated at the treasury department that the public debt, less the cash in the treasury, has increased $2,000,000 since February 1. This is due to the unusually heavy disbursements during the month for pensions, etc.

A Parcels Post Convention.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—A parcels post convention has been concluded between the United States and the Hawaiian kingdom, similar to that with Jamaica, to take effect the 1st proximo.

Condition of the Pacific Guano Company.

BOSTON, Feb. 28.—At a meeting of the creditors of the Pacific Guano Company, held this morning, John C. Ropes, the assignee, made a statement showing that the liabilities were $2,467,800, and the assets $422,284.

The Ball Players.

NICE, Feb. 28.—The game of baseball here between the Chicagos and all Americans was abandoned owing to bad weather. The clubs have started for Paris.

THE OLD AND THE NEW.

How the President-Elect Passed the Day.

THE INAUGURATION PROGRAMME.

Active Preparations for That Imposing Event—Speculation About the Formation of the Cabinet—The Coast Counted in.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—This was senatorial day at the Harrison headquarters, and quite a number of senators had interviews with the president-elect, in many cases by special appointment. Among the callers were Senators Sherman, Stockbridge, Quay, Spooner, Sawyer, Farwell and Platt.

The president-elect began to receive visitors early in the morning and continued to do so until towards 1 o'clock, when he left the hotel alone for a stroll in the direction of his old home near the Circle.

The vice-president-elect called on the president-elect during the forenoon. Ex-Secretaries Boutelle and McCulloch were among the earliest of the afternoon visitors. Blaine came over and spent a few minutes with General Harrison. Speaker Carlisle called to pay his respects, and Chief Justice Fuller to inquire as to the president-elect's wishes in regard to the ceremonies on the stand on the day of the inauguration.

The other visitors were ex-Senator Ferry, General Schenck, Congressman Guenther, of Wisconsin, Murat Halstead, General Swain, of the United States army, ex-Congressman Voorhees, of New York, Governor Cheney, of New Hampshire, and H. L. Swords, sergeant-at-arms of the republican executive committee.

About 1 o'clock Senator Sherman walked in. Senator Sherman had hardly seated himself when the president elect appeared. The two greeted each other with great cordiality and shortly retired to the seclusion of the general's private parlor.

Senator Spooner also had an interview with General Harrison in the evening.

To-morrow morning the president-elect has arranged to receive a number of members of congress, among them Reed, Anderson of Kansas and Crouse of Ohio.

THE INAUGURATION PROGRAMME.

The president and vice president-elect, on the morning of inauguration day, will go to Willard's hotel, where they will occupy the parlor at the corner of Pennsylvania avenue and Fourteenth street. President Cleveland will call for them there, and escort them to the capitol.

The city is assuming a holiday appearance. Flags and banners are being put up on buildings along the line of procession, and work on the stands and at the pension office is approaching completion.

There is a large demand for tickets for the ball, and it is supposed they will all be disposed of before the night of the 4th.

The senate committee on arrangements has issued an official order of the proceedings at the capitol on the 4th. The building will be opened at 10 o'clock to those holding cards of admission, and at 11 o'clock the senate chamber will be thrown open. The blue gallery will be reserved for the diplomatic corps and their families. The president of the senate, president-elect and vice-president-elect, will occupy seats west of the diplomatic gallery. The remaining seats, except those in the press gallery, will be open to all having tickets of admission.

The president-elect and vice president-elect will enter the capitol through the bronze doors at the head of the marble steps on the east wing of the building.

The floor of the senate will be reserved for members of the senate and house of representatives, justices of the supreme court, army and navy officers, heads of departments and other high officials. The vice president will take the oath of office in the senate chamber.

After the organization of the senate, the procession will be formed and march to a stand erected on the east front of the main part of the capitol, where the president will deliver his inaugural and be sworn in. If the weather should be stormy this ceremony will take place in the senate chamber. On Saturday morning the signal service will issue an official weather prediction for inauguration day.

TALK ABOUT THE CABINET.

Platt and Miller Believed To Be Entirely Out of the Race.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—An impression prevails in some circles to-night that the cabinet of the incoming administration is complete, with the exception to be named, and that no further change will be made in the slate as at present arranged. This is the make-up that receives most credence: Secretary of state, James G. Blaine; secretary of the treasury, William Windom; secretary of war, Redfield Proctor; secretary of the navy, to be filled; secretary of the interior, John F. Swift; attorney-general, John W. Noble; postmaster-general, John Wanamaker; secretary of agriculture, Jeremiah Rusk.

It is said to-night that Platt and Miller are distinctly out of the race, and Platt men are much annoyed. New York may get a cabinet place, but it depends entirely upon the temper of her politicians. General Harrison, after hearing a great deal about the situation in the Empire state, told Morton if the republicans there, without regard to factions or personal difficulties, could unite in recommending some man for a cabinet place, he would have generous consideration. If such harmony can be brought about, the man named will be given the navy portfolio.

Senator Palmer is not believed a possibility any longer.

General Harrison is also reported to have said to a Nebraska man that when a state had presented a man for cabinet honors, and it had not been found expedient to put his name on the list, it was hardly to be expected that a man not so presented and supported should be chosen. This was taken to dispose of the chances of Robert W. Furnas of Nebraska for secretary of agriculture, who had been suggested when John M. Thurston's name was rubbed off, and would equally apply to General Alger and Senator Palmer.

The Wisconsin delegates are still confident that Governor Rusk will have a place, but it will not be secretary of war. That appears to be conceded to ex-Governor Proctor, and the only other place open to him is that of agriculture.

This morning delegates of Wisconsin and Illinois called in a body upon General Harrison. Their visit occasioned some gossip, as having been made with a view to affect the cabinet combination, but this was denied by members.

W. H. H. Miller, ex-law partner of President-elect Harrison, who accompanied him to this city, and whose name has been often mentioned as the coming attorney-general, is now talked of for solicitor-general. He said there was no foundation for the story printed this morning from Toledo, that he had written to a friend there saying he had accepted the position of attorney-general.

As a result of Congressman Belden's dinner to the New York delegation last night, it is stated to-day that they will support General George Sharpe for collector of the port of New York.

CABINET SPECULATION.

Sherman Says Palmer of Michigan is Booked, Platt is Not.

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—A Washington special says Senator Sherman spent an hour with General Harrison this morning. Afterward he told a friend that Palmer of Michigan was booked for a place in the cabinet. He also quotes Vice-President-elect Morton as saying that Thomas C. Platt will not be in the cabinet.

Eastern Temperature.

CHICAGO, Feb. 28.—The temperature at 8 o'clock this morning stood: New York, 22; Chicago, 30; St. Paul, 22; Winnipeg, 14; New Orleans, 56.

NORTHWESTERN NEWS.

Seattle's Cable and Electric Lines Nearly Completed.

AN EMBEZZLER'S LIGHT SENTENCE

The Steamer Potter Temporarily Stranded—An Insane Traveler—The O. R. & N. to Build From LaGrande to Walla Walla.

SEATTLE, W. T., Feb. 28.—The cable for the Front street road was stretched to-day, and the line is practically finished. A car will be run over it to-morrow, and traffic will begin next week. Work on the Front street cable line began on November 14 last, and has been prosecuted with astonishing vigor, day and night, since that time. The line runs from Depot street in North Seattle along Second to Pine and then turns down into Front street and comes through the heart of the city to Occidental square, where a turntable is located. The road was modeled in many respects after the Powell street line in San Francisco. It is solidly built, double tracked broad gauge and is one and six tenths miles in length. The machinery in the power house is the most complete and modern that money could buy. The total cost of the road is $350,000. There has been much rivalry during the past winter between the cable road and the Seattle Railway Company, which runs on Second and Front streets, taking in exactly those parts of streets which are not occupied by the cable road. The railway company has been converting its plant into an electric railway, and it was expected to complete it by January 1, but various delays have occurred, and the new system will not be in operation till probably next week. The simultaneous inauguration of these two enterprises is considered by the people of Seattle to mark an era in the growth of the city.

FROM TACOMA.

Simpson Escapes With a Light Sentence—Court Notes.

TACOMA, W. T., Feb. 28.—Fred S. Simpson to-day pleaded guilty to a charge of grand larceny in the district court, and was sentenced by Judge Allyn to two years in the penitentiary. Simpson is a young man who was employed by the Northern Pacific Express Company as transfer agent, and who, while acting in that capacity, stole money packages, entrusted to him to deliver to the express agent on the train, containing $12,176.25. This happened on the 18th of last November, and Simpson jumped at once on a steamer and escaped to British Columbia. He was recognized near Kamloops and detained, and voluntarily returned to Tacoma with nearly the whole of the money. In passing sentence the judge stated that he had received letters from some of the most prominent people in the United States, asking him to show as much leniency as possible. He continued that he was satisfied that Simpson was not an incorrigible criminal, and in view of his previous good reputation he would impose the light sentence of two years. Simpson, between sobs, thanked his honor for his leniency.

COURT NOTES.

The grand jury to-day have been investigating the charge of abortion in connection with the Wickersham case, and it is believed have returned indictments against Dr. F. C. Miller and Dr. E. M. Brown, for producing an abortion on the person of Sadie Brantner and against Probate Judge Wickersham for procuring the same to be done. Miller is city health officer and Brown deputy health officer.

Three true bills were found against John B. Ryan, Michael Glean, John B. Parker, John Warren, John Rogers, Frank Gamon, John Farmer, John Doe and Richard Roe, burglars captured near Buckley, and more indictments are still in the hands of the grand jury. A true bill was also returned against Carlo Roberts for attempting to obtain money by false pretenses in passing himself off as the rightful owner of a small check.

GREAT EXPECTATIONS.

Thomas F. Oakes, president, and J. M. Hannaford, tariff manager of the Northern Pacific railroad, arrived here this morning, and will remain some days. Mr. Oakes says the Terminal Company, recently formed, will expend about six million dollars in Tacoma during the next four years. Eight hundred and eighty thousand of this will be spent this year in building new car shops, cutting down the bank in North Pacific avenue, and filling in more land for tracks and warehouses. The new depot will not be commenced till next year. A new mining pump of the largest capacity is now on the way to Tacoma to take the place of the small squirt gun now in use there. The shops will employ 500 or 600 men and be located at the head of the bay. Three new coal bunkers, with a capacity of 5000 tons each, will be built on the tide flats opposite the city, where the St. Paul and Tacoma mills stand. Other improvements are also in contemplation and will be proceeded with immediately.

CANDIDATE FOR COLLECTOR.

In view of the passage of the act of congress creating Tacoma a port of entry Alexander Reed, a grain merchant of this city, formerly of Walla Walla, is circulating a petition to the president to be appointed collector of customs at this port. Most of the prominent merchants, business and professional men have endorsed Mr. Reed.

THE POTTER STRANDED.

The Passengers Taken Off in Safety and No Damage Incurred.

OLYMPIA, W. T., Feb. 28.—About 7 o'clock this morning the steamer Potter, during an unusually dense fog, ran on to Johnson's point, where she had to remain in the mud until 4 o'clock this afternoon, when she got off at high tide and continued her trip to Seattle. At the time she struck the steamer Fleetwood was near at hand, and in response to her whistle, went to her assistance, and made a fruitless effort to haul her off. Captain Parker, finding that the Potter could not float before the evening tide, transferred his passengers to the Fleetwood, which took them to Seattle.

As far as can be ascertained, the Potter has not sustained the slightest injury, and no loss will be sustained, except her detention for a few hours.

AN INSANE TRAVELER.

A Young Man Recently Employed in the O. R. & N. Office in Portland.

PENDLETON, Or., Feb. 28.—O. J. Bohl, a young man recently employed in the office of the O. R. & N. Co. at Portland, while en route to Kansas City left the cars at Union station and betrayed such unmistakable signs of insanity that he was taken in custody. Superintendent Johnson was notified of his condition and telegraphed to have the young man returned to Portland. Bohl was placed in the custody of Deputy Constable Cates, who will arrive in Portland to-morrow morning with his charge.

FROM LA GRANDE TO WALLA WALLA

Indications That an O. R. & N. Branch Will Be Speedily Built.

LA GRANDE, Or., Feb. 28.—Chief Engineer Kennedy and party of the O. R. & N. Co. arrived in La Grande to-day for the purpose of making a preliminary inspection of the proposed branch road to Walla Walla. They start out forthwith and will go through the Grand Ronde and Walla Walla canyons. All indications are that the Walla Walla branch will be speedily built, and work will probably be begun at this place within a few weeks.

SEATTLE NEWS ITEMS.

Wickersham Will Not Be Sentenced at This Term of Court.

SEATTLE, Feb. 28.—The body of an Indian child, about 8 years old, was found in a clump of trees near the Duwamish river several days since. The coroner to-day went out and examined the remains, and concluded it had been there a year. There is no clue to the identity of the child.

Judge Burke to-day granted Wickersham's application for an arrest of judgment that he may have time to make a motion for a new trial. This means that he will not be sentenced at this term of court.

There was a renewal of the tide flat trouble this morning. Twenty two men started to cut down piles on the land above the meander line, claimed as tide flat land by Policeman Jones and others. The estate has a title to the land from the government. Five were arrested and four were arraigned before Justice Soderburg and discharged. Ex-Policeman Terry, the other, was released on a writ of habeas corpus.

Howell T. Jones, vice-president of the printers' union, has been indicted for assault with intent to murder in the late Newcastle riot. James Evans is wanted for killing Wilbaft Rufston during the trouble, but he cannot be found. Several other persons, including the miners who came over from Gilman and made an attack on the Newcastle miners, have also been indicted.

Mr. Hunt has purchased passenger coaches for two trains, to be used on the O. & W. T., commencing about April 1. Through cars will be run between here and Tacoma.

The real estate market is very active.

FROM SPOKANE FALLS

Attempted Jail Break—Judge Nash to Resign, etc.

SPOKANE FALLS, Feb. 28.—Thirteen prisoners confined in the upper cage of the county jail assaulted Deputy Sheriff Martin when he went in to feed them this afternoon. They disarmed him, took his keys and attempted to bind and gag him. Martin's cries attracted the attention of Deputy Lathrop at the courthouse, who drove the prisoners back preventing a general escape.

Rev. Father J. Tosst, E. Terragno, Chief Saltese and sub-Chief Edward arrived here to-day, to hold a conference with the government agents regarding one half the Coeur d'Alene reservation.

Judge L. B. Nash has publicly announced his intention to resign from the bench in the near future. Petitions, signed by nearly all the leading members of the bar have been forwarded to President Harrison asking the appointment of Judge Blake, of this city, to the vacancy.

FROM PORT TOWNSEND.

Advices From the Sealing Grounds—A Collision in the Straits.

PORT TOWNSEND, W. T., Feb. 28.—The sealing schooner Mollie Adams was in Neah bay last night. She reported a catch of 250 seals. The Alice T. Alger was spoken off the Columbia river with 150 seals. The vessels report seal very plentiful between Cape Flattery and Humboldt.

The schooner John G. North, from San Francisco for Seattle, to load coal and lumber for Kodiak, Alaska, collided in the straits last night with the bark Columbia, outward bound, carrying away the schooner's foretopmast.

KILLED BY THE CARS.

The Coroner's Jury Censures the Train men for Negligence.

PENDLETON, Feb. 28.—Wm. Westfall, 50 years of age was killed Tuesday near Vansicle. He was walking on the line of the Hunt railroad, and was struck by the engine of a special train. The coroner's jury returned a verdict that Westfall's death was caused by the negligence of the trainmen, who should have stopped the train. He leaves a wife and six children in poor circumstances.

Salem News Notes.

SALEM, Or., Feb. 28.—This morning, when the Bentley was pulling out for Portland, the fog being thick on the river, and it being a very difficult matter to keep an exact course she ran a little too close to the spit, some distance below the bridge, and being heavily loaded for the present condition of the river, she grounded. The Isabel was called to her assistance, and half the cargo was transferred to that boat, when the Bentley swung off easily, was reloaded, and proceeded on her way. There was no damage and only slight delay.

Robert Thompson, guard at the penitentiary, was discharged to-day by Superintendent Downing. Thompson is a son-in-law of Rev. I. D. Driver, but a strong democrat. The relations between him and the superintendent have not been pleasant for a long time. Downing had asked for a resignation which was refused.

The supreme court yesterday adjourned until next Monday, which will be the first day of the March session. It is expected that quite a large docket will be ready for its consideration the coming term.

While engaged in a potlatch at Nass river an Indian medicine man fell dead while dancing.

Certificates of Election Issued.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Feb. 28.—Governor Wilson to-day issued certificates of election to J. D. Alderson, Dem., from the Third congressional district, and J. M. Jackson, Dem., from the Fourth district.

Governor Wilson declined to consider the vote of Kanawha county, which cast over 9000 votes and gave McGinnis 1345 plurality. The alleged reason for this action is that there are some proceedings pending in the courts in relation to the vote of the county.

The governor reached a conclusion in the fourth district by reading the returns from Pleasant county 842, instead of 840. The word "two" was spelled "twe," and the governor made it twelve. The republicans will carry the contest to the house.

Anxious to Secure Colonists.

CHICAGO, Feb. 28.—Louis Pullot, a well known Mexican concessionaire, is in the city. He said to a reporter this evening that Dr. Frank Powell would sail for Europe in a few days to put some of the land on the market and secure colonists, who will each receive a bonus of $50 for settling on the grant. A railway has been projected and partly built which is to reach from Deming, New Mexico, to the rich mines in the Sierre Madre mountains.

OTHER COAST EVENTS.

The Opposition Steamship Line Sells Out.

THE WORK OF MASKED ROBBERS

Was the Walking Match a Fake?—Decline in Spring Valley Water Stock—The Seal Fishing Industry—Coast Notes.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 28.—The Pacific Coast Steamship Company has bought out the West Coast Steamship Company, again getting control of the steamers Pomona and Puebla.

Captain J. K. Knowles, who with Milton Griffith owned the steamers City of Puebla and Pomona, announced some weeks ago that he intended running those vessels in opposition to the Pacific Coast Steamship Company. The City of Puebla was to run to the Sound and the Pomona on her old route to Eureka. Negotiations, however, which have been going on between the two companies finally resulted in the sale of the vessels. It is learned that the Pacific Coast Company were unwilling at first to give more than $675,000 for the vessels, but eventually compromised at $700,000. The City of Puebla will take the Mexico's place on her next trip to Victoria, B. C., the Mexico going to Sausalito to be up.

THE WORK OF MASKED ROBBERS.

The Proprietor of a Store Compelled to Open His Safe.

TULARE, Feb. 28.—Two masked men entered the store of Guilford & Zlensky at Reedly last night and covered the clerk and proprietor with revolvers. They then forced them to open the safe and give up what money they had. After this the robbers thanked them kindly and turned away. The amount taken was $750.

SPRING VALLEY WATER COMPANY

San Franciscans Startled by the Decline in the Stock.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 28.—The sensation of the day in stock circles is the marked decline in the shares of the Spring Valley Water Company, which still continues. This morning the price dropped to $92, which is the lowest in several years. On February 1 stock was considered a safe investment at $100 per share, which was then the current rate. The decline of course, is attributed to the ordinance which was finally passed by the supervisors this morning, reducing the rates of the Spring Valley company 10 per cent. and the consequent scare among the holders of stock lest their accustomed dividends should be reduced, or cut off entirely.

OFF FOR THE SEAL FISHERIES.

A Protest Against the Monopoly of the Industry by Big Corporations.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 28.—Most of the seal hunters have left port, and are now on their way to Northern latitudes. They will skirt along the coast, hunting by the way, and, when the season for the migration of seals approaches, will be found around those haunts in Behring sea, where for ages the seals have congregated for the purpose of breeding.

The policy of the new administration with reference to sealing is, of course, as yet a matter of conjecture. It is admitted by the sealers that an indiscriminate license to kill seals would soon result in the extermination of the animal, and they do not ask this. They do, however, protest against the grant of the exclusive privilege to a wealthy corporation, even if the law does limit the number of seals which may be killed in one season.

THE TYPOGRAPHICAL UNION.

Discussion of the Feasibility of a District Union.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 28.—Before the Sixth district convention of the typographical unions Captain O'Brien, president of the Multnomah union of Portland, stated that business was good north but that the supply of printers was greater than the demand. This was owing, he said, to the collapse of the land boom in California, which prevented great numbers of printers from going South. Wages were very good, being $21 per week of sixty hours, and from forty five cents to fifty cents per thousand ems. Business in the Sound cities was very brisk, and the hours were nine a day.

Considerable discussion ensued on the question of women as compositors.

O'Brien knew that the Portland union had seventeen of the fair sex on its membership roll. Every one of them he could say, was a good compositor, and several were A 1. In Portland, the girls received the same wages as were paid the men, were given the same privileges and extended the same protection.

This afternoon the district organization was taken up for discussion, being opened by O'Brien. He was earnestly in favor of a district organization. The great cost of sending delegates to the international Union had prevented representation and the needs of the coast had not been properly presented. By the system proposed, the district could name and instruct a list of delegates, who could properly present its wants.

After short remarks by one or two others it was moved that a committee of three be appointed, to draft resolutions expressing the sense of the convention on a district organization.

The chair announced that the committee would be appointed at a later session.

AN UNSATISFACTORY RACE.

A Report in San Francisco That the Six Day Walking Match Was a Fake.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 28.—Now that the six-day walking match is over and everybody knows that a colored man has won the sports are trying to settle it in their minds as to whether or not it was a square thing or a fake. The burden of opinion is on the fake side. Three days before the finish a tip was flying around which named Hart as the winner, Moore for second place and Howarth for third. The man who gave that out was on the inside and for once the tip won.

The race from a sportsman's standpoint was a disappointing one. There was some good material in it although no man has made 600 miles at any time. Hart having the best record with 590. Hart, Moore, Vint, Cartwright and Howarth have been in many races and are not unknown to fame in sporting circles but here they did nothing. The leaders have little to be proud of. They barely went over the 575 miles required to get a part of the gate receipts, and then by mutual consent quit and all the glorious protest about smashed records came to naught.

THE FIGHTERS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 28.—Messrs. Gibbs and Sullivan presented their accounts as to the pugilistic performances of the contestants in the six-day walk. [illegible] to the delay by which it was seen that the whole of the gate receipts irrespective of reserved seats will be given to the [illegible] legends, who [illegible] material payments, amounted to $1,500. Of this $6,500 was divided between Hart and Moore, the former receiving $4 [illegible] and the latter $2,500. The other contestants had their expenses paid.

THE RATE ON CANNED GOODS.

The Transcontinental Lines Fail to Reach an Agreement.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 28.—Telegrams from Chairman Leeds of the Transcontinental association to the Southern Pacific company and Atlantic & Pacific officials here state that a telegraphic ballot taken by twenty two lines, in the association on the request of canned fruit shippers of this city for a 90 cent rate on their commodity to all Eastern points has resulted in a failure to agree and to maintain the $1.20 rate, will go into effect to-morrow.

When the canned goods shippers of this city learned the result they were very much disappointed. To-day a secret meeting of some of the leading canned fruit shippers was held, the plan of forming and chartering a ship to carry goods around Cape Horn to New York was discussed with much earnestness. It is said that the few firms represented had over 3000 carloads which they could not send to Eastern markets because of the high railroad rates.

A SAD SUICIDE.

A Young Man Shoots Himself Because of Financial Distress.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 28.—A sad suicide occurred here to-day. Three months ago Charles E. Rose, a young man 20 years of age, came to this city from Ogdensburg, N. Y., for his health. His scanty purse soon gave out, and his many efforts to secure work proving futile, he became very despondent. Coming from a wealthy family, Rose had no trade and the usual channels for such work as he could do being overcrowded, he killed himself.

This noon when his landlady, alarmed at his tardiness, entered his room, Rose was found on the bed dead. An ugly bullet wound in the side of the head, a revolver on the bed told the story.

Among his effects were a quantity of very affecting letters from his mother written to cheer her boy, and pathetically begging him to bear up under his financial straits as they would be only temporary.

One of the letters closed: "If people only knew how good a son you had always been to me, they would be glad to find work for you."

THE TRAIN ROBBERY.

Death of Bentley, One of the Unfortunate Passengers.

DELANO, Feb. 28.—E. S. Bentley, one of the passengers who was shot by train robbers near Pixley on the 22d inst., died this morning. The former announcement of his death being premature. An autopsy held showed that Bently had received four teen BB shot in the abdomen, several penetrating entirely through the intestines. He also had seventeen shot in his arm and five in his hand, making thirty seven shot in his body. The corpse was taken to Modesto for interment.

CALIFORNIA NEWS ITEMS.

Seizure of a Chinese Junk.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 28.—The United States revenue cutter Corwin went on a cruise outside the heads to-day. Coming in two boats were seen to board a Hong Kong Chinese lumber junk. The Mongolians did not have the proper papers, and the junk was seized. The Chinese stated that their papers were in Chinatown and a man was sent after them. The story was circulated that opium was found on the junk, but this could not be authenticated.

Enveloped in a Fog.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 28.—The fog on the bay this morning was the heaviest experienced for years. Ferry travel was demoralized, the boats were behind several trips were omitted and the Creek route was suspended. No serious accidents have been heard of although some narrow escapes are reported. The Sausalito ferry was stopped within a few feet of a British war vessel, and a serious accident was thus averted.

Sentenced for Bribery and Intimidation.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 28.—In the United States court to-day Judge Ross presiding, Andrew Sabine was accused of approaching Baretto Flores, a witness against H. Gougon, on trial for smuggling cigars into the United States from Mexico. It was proved that Flores was not only threatened, but was offered money not to testify. Sabine was sent to jail for one year.

Sale of Fleet Horses.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 28.—The following trotters were sold at auction at the Bay district track to-day: Sun Flower, Duchess, Don Quixote, Samo, Fleetfoot, Robert Elsmere, Judge Belden, Ben Hur, Rex Silver Thread, Engadine and Koko, all belong to the estate of the late H. W. Searles. They brought but $5220.

MORE COMPLICATIONS.

A Misunderstanding Between the Two United States Governments.

BOSTON, Feb. 28.—A complication has arisen between the United States of America and the United States of Colombia. A schooner went from here to Aspinwall with a cargo of ice. When partly unloaded, the Colombian government stopped further work and closed up the houses of the Boston Ice Company holding several hundred tons of ice. This action was taken because the government has sold the exclusive right to sell ice to a home company. As Aspinwall is a free port this is considered an infraction of the treaty and an appeal is necessary. Bayard so notified Colombia and the United States steamers Gasippe and Atlanta were dispatched to Aspinwall, but at the latest dates nothing had been done to effect a settlement. The United States consul at Aspinwall has been notified by Secretary Bayard that force is not authorized against the Colombian government. The action of the Colombian government has been harsh throughout the difficulty. The Colombians are very defiant in tone, and say the United States has not the ability to force them.

Robbed by Masked Men.

LEBANON, Penn., Feb. 28.—Last evening the house of Herman Umberger, an aged farmer, in the east of here was entered by two masked men, who forced Umberger to open a trunk containing $1,600 which they seized and then unmercifully beat him. Mrs. Umberger resisted and the men shot her. His wife witnessed the murder, but was too ill and feeble to be of any assistance to her husband. The murderers are supposed to belong to the community. Great excitement prevails.

Stabbed His Wife to Death.

PATERSON, N. J., Feb. 28.—Mrs. Anthony Free, the wife of a young Holland-er, left her husband several months ago on account of his harshness and went out to work as a domestic. To-day he called at the house where she was at work and, after a brief interview, he stabbed her in a dozen places. She died to-night. Later he cut his own throat. He had badly cut himself and is very weak.

A Wife Murderer Attempts Suicide.

BOSTON, Feb. 28.—Edward Colburn, a traveling salesman, 23 years of age, shot and killed his wife Lizzie to-night at their house in Roxbury. The murderer then went to the Madison Park hotel in Madison Park, where he shot himself twice in the face. He is alive but a few hours at the most. The motive is not known. The couple had been married about a year.

A Large Embezzlement.

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—A. B. Cleveland, president of the A. B. Cleveland Company, wholesalers of seeds, has been missing for three weeks. It is said that he provided himself out of the company's funds and by loans, with over $100,000 before leaving.

The only complexion Powder in the world that is without vulgarity, without injury to the user and without doubt a beautifier is Pozzoni's.

EASTERN DISPATCHES.

Proceedings of the League Convention at Baltimore.

THE ALASKA BOUNDARY DISPUTE

The Canadian Parliament—More Indictments Against Ives and Stayner—A Fight for the Immigrant Travel—Crime Notes.

BALTIMORE, Md., Feb. 28.—When President James P. Foster called the convention of the National League of Republican Clubs to order this forenoon there was a large attendance. President Foster briefly stated the reason for holding the convention at this time and congratulated the league on the result of its work last fall. He spoke of the rapid growth of the league and said at the head of the inaugural parade on Monday its banner would be found. He congratulated the republican party on the admission of four new republican states. His allusion to Blaine as the next secretary of state was greeted with an outburst of enthusiastic cheering.

The call was answered by nearly 200 Delegates from North and South Dakota, Washington and New Mexico were greeted with applause as they arose to answer to their names.

After the routine business the convention adjourned till to-morrow.

To-night the mass meeting at Oratorio hall was largely attended. The most prominent delegates to the convention were present.

A speech was made by A. L. Morrison of New Mexico, who defended the territory from the charge of being unfit to become a state, that has been made by some of the newspapers and protested against the people being classed with the Mormon population of Utah. He said that New Mexico would soon ask for admission, and pledged himself to it that when she was in she would come in as a republican state and would be a credit to the American people.

THE BOUNDARY DISPUTE.

The Present Line Said To Be Ninety Miles Out of the Way.

OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 28.—As regards the question of the Alaska boundary which is the subject of discussion between Canada and the United States, the interior department makes public the following: "The observations of William Ogilvie, in charge of the Yukon district have not yet been completely reduced, but an approximate calculation shows that the boundary is nearly 90 miles from where it is marked on the United States maps. This is of great importance, as the line passes through the best gold-bearing districts yet discovered in the country."

Mr. Charlton will inquire of the ministry to-morrow whether an arrangement has been effected with the United States for the proper definition of the boundary line between Alaska and British Columbia.

THE CANADIAN PARLIAMENT.

A Debate in the Senate on the Proposed Pacific Coast Defenses.

OTTAWA, Feb. 28.—In the senate to-day, McInnes, of British Columbia, drew the attention of the government to the necessity of urging the Imperial government to construct the proposed defense of the Pacific coast. Three years have gone by since the admiralty sent a party of engineers to survey the sites, but nothing has been done so far. McInnes drew attention to the war cloud, which was hanging over Europe, Russia, he said, was enlarging her arsenal at Vladovostock, opposite British Columbia.

The government leader of the senate replied at length, saying that it had not yet been decided where to erect the batteries in the neighborhood of Esquimalt. The negotiations between the imperial and Canadian governments respecting the proportions of armaments were confidential, and they were proceeding satisfactorily.

McInnes then drew the attention of the government to the necessity of defending other points along the Pacific coast.

IVES AND STAYNER.

New Indictments Ordered, Based on Revelations by the Bookkeeper.

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—Six new indictments have been ordered against Ives and Stayner for forgery larceny and fraudulent issue of stock. Bookkeeper Woodruff is revealing to the district attorney what he knows of his employers' methods. His narrative is not yet complete. It is said that Woodruff's statements incriminate partner Doremus to a great degree, and this branch of the subject will be investigated by the grand jury.

RAILROAD WARS.

Transcontinental Lines Fighting for the Immigration Business.

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—During the stagnation in the first and second-class passenger business, the transcontinental lines have been fighting for the immigration business at Castle Garden. In the last few days the commissions on California tickets have been as high as $14. The war is chiefly directed against the Southern Pacific which secures in Europe over half of the California business.

MURDEROUS "WHITE CAPS."

An Attempt to Kill an Editor in His Office.

MINNEAPOLIS, Feb. 28.—"White Caps" attempted to murder J. P. Smith, editor of the News of this city, to-night.

Smith has been the recipient of fourteen letters since January 27, all signed by "White Caps," breathing threats of summary vengeance unless he left the city immediately.

The last letter was received last night and threatened a dose of cold lead unless its demands were complied with forthwith. Smith gave no heed to the letter.

This evening, as he was sitting in his office, the door was opened by a man muffled up to the ears in a heavy coat and wearing a broad brimmed slouch hat, pulled well over his eyes. Without a word he presented a pistol at Smith's head and fired. The bullet pierced Smith's ear, but being of but 22 caliber it was flattened against his skull.

The would be murderer fled. No trace has yet been found of him.

The wounded man apparently experiences little trouble from his wound but the doctors say the shock may have been inflicted upon his brain which will prove serious.

Smith is at a loss to account for the attack, having to his knowledge no one who would wish to take his life.

MURDERED BY HIS BROTHER IN LAW.

Failure of an Attempt to Lynch the Criminal.

LOUISVILLE, Feb. 28.—Near Springfield, Kentucky to-night Robert Mullen shot and fatally wounded Robert Moore, his brother in law. Recently his wife returned to her people at Springfield and Mullen declared that he would force her to live with him. Her brother barricaded himself and sister in their home, and Mullen attacked them by firing upon them. They answered and in the fusilade which followed, Robert Moore was shot. There was an effort to lynch Mullen, but he was safely lodged in jail.

A FATAL CASUALTY.

Twelve Firemen Buried in the Debris of a Burning Building.

MILWAUKEE, Feb. 28.—Fire to-night destroyed the building occupied by Jennel & Co., milliners, causing a loss of $75,000. When the fire was practically extinguished, four floors fell in, burying a dozen firemen in the basement below. Their comrades quickly rallied to their groans and pitiful appeals for help and one by one they were slowly extricated, the work occupying more than an hour. Edward Noonan was taken out dead and the others were badly injured and maimed. Edward McGinley and Otto Limau will probably die.

AN UNFAVORABLE REPORT.

The Financial Statement of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul.

CHICAGO, Feb. 28.—The financial statement of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railroad Company for 1888 was filed with the Wisconsin railroad commissioners at Madison to-day. It is the most unfavorable report yet made by any Western road for last year not excepting the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy. The disbursements were $4,689,783 in excess of the gross income. Armour denies the rumor that he is going to resign from the directorate of the road.

AN INTERESTING LETTER.

OFFICE OF THE ELECTRIC LIGHT AND POWER CO., ALBANY, January 26.

Messrs. Russell & Co., Portland, Oregon—Gentlemen: Your letter of inquiry regarding the working of the sixty horse power engine purchased is at hand. I reply will say that the engine is all you recommended it, both as to power, regulation and economy. We are running one Schuyler arc-light dynamo, forty 2000 candle power lights and one Heisler dynamo, the former requiring about thirty-horse power and the latter twenty five horse power. Both are fully loaded, and the friction cannot absorb less than five-horse power, which is working the engine to its full guaranteed capacity, and the automatic regulation is so perfect that the plunging either dynamo in or out makes no perceptible difference in the speed, and we have started from [illegible] water and run all night with one cord of wood. Respectfully,

H. H. ALLEN.

OLD WORLD AFFAIRS.

The French Government Suppresses the Patriotic League.

LEADERS PLACED UNDER ARREST

Parnellites Propound a Number of Annoying Questions in the House of Commons—Resignation of Prime Minister Crispi.

PARIS, Feb. 28.—It is reported that Paul de Roulede, president of the Patriotic League, and other leaders of that organization have been arrested and prosecuted.

De Roulede, Deschteb, Laguerre and Richard, members of the organization, are charged with having, by hostile acts such as the signing of the Atchinoff manifesto exposed the state to the danger of a declaration of war. The police to-day took possession of the office of the league. De Roulede declines to answer the charges against him at present. The suppression of the patriotic league was decided upon at a council held at the Elysee palace. Afterward Premier Tierard, Constans, minister of the interior, and Thevenet, minister of justice, had a conference with the procureur general and the prefect of police, with a view to taking concerted action. Delaunay, member of the right, will raise a question in the chamber regarding the arrest of the accused deputies.

Laguerre and Laisant were arrested for disrespect to the commissary of police. De Roulede, on the arrival of the police, having telephoned for the Boulangist deputies, both were provisionally released. Ten warrants were issued. No warrant was issued for Laguerre.

It is believed that the suppression of the Patriotic League is the first of a series of steps to suppress Boulangism. On the pretext of discovering the organization of the league the police to-day made three searches for papers belonging to the league.

CHAMBER OF DEPUTIES.

PARIS, Feb. 28.—In the chamber of deputies to-day, Spuller, minister of foreign affairs, replying to Delafosse, said that he must decline to discuss the Atchinoff incident before Saturday.

The chamber adopted the order of the day including an expression of friendly sentiments towards Russia.

THE HOUSE OF COMMONS.

Parnellites Propound a Number of Annoying Questions.

LONDON, Feb. 28.—Sexton gave notice in the commons this afternoon that he would make a motion to compel Major Saunderson (conservative) to disclose the names of officers pledging to associate themselves with Major Saunderson and violate their oaths of obedience to the crown, in the event of a home rule parliament being granted in Ireland.

In reply to questions, Smith, government leader, declared that nobody on behalf of the government had intimated that the Times would be recouped by a parliamentary grant for expenses in connection with the Parnell commission.

Healy asked whether attention had been called to the fact that as far back as November the attorney general had received a statement from Pigott to the effect that he could not bear cross-examination before the commission. [Parnellite cheers.] Having regard for this, he asked did the government retain confidence in Attorney General Webster?

Smith asked that due notice of a question be given, if Healy's reference was to Sir Richard Webster's discharge of his duties as attorney general.

Healy gave notice of a motion that in the opinion of the house the attorney general had forfeited confidence.

Shaw LeFevre, resuming the debate on the address in reply to the speech from the throne, charged the Irish executive with increasing the rigors of repression in Ireland during recess. They were afraid to face a discussion in parliament. Immediately after parliament was prorogued, the first step of the executive was to prosecute eleven Irish members. In resisting efforts to class them as ordinary prisoners, the Parnellites had the opinion of the world on their side.

Chamberlin held that the speakers of the opposition had made the debate sterile by avoiding the main issue. Why did not the opposition give the country reasons for revising the present policy? Let the opposition, if it possessed a policy, produce a series of resolutions expressing it. Possibly a large section of parliament might agree with it. At least the house and country would be enabled to grapple with something definite. He appealed to the opposition to place the discussion on a broad and sound basis by informing the house fully what was its scheme to content Ireland.

In the course of the debate T. W. Russell, a liberal unionist, apparently accused Dillon of paying for the defense of murderers.

"It's a foul lie," exclaimed Dillon, springing excitedly to his feet.

The chairman requested the remark to be withdrawn and Dillon complied. Russell also disclaiming all personal reference to Dillon.

CONGRATULATIONS FOR PARNELL.

OTTAWA, Feb. 28.—The Irish senators and members of parliament of both politics and many of the French Canadian members of both houses dispatched this afternoon two telegrams to Parnell congratulating him on the collapse of the Times alleged conspiracy case.

TO TESTIFY BEFORE THE COMMISSION.

DUBLIN, Feb. 28.—Two prisoners named Hanlon & McAfrey who are undergoing life sentence for their connection with the Phoenix Park murders have started for London under a police escort, to testify before the Parnell commission.

A REPORT TO PARLIAMENT.

Preparations Being Made for a Banquet in Honor of Parnell.

LONDON, Feb. 28.—In the event of the Times's counsel asking to be allowed to proceed with the inquiry, Sir Charles Russell will press the judges to adjourn until an interim report on the letters has been presented to parliament. In the lobby of the house of commons it is taken for granted that such a report will be presented which will enable the opposition to attack the government on the subject.

Campbell telegraphs from Antwerp that he has found no trace of Pigott.

The radical project to give a banquet to Parnell has been taken up with enthusiasm. Parnell has intimated his acceptance of the honor. Lord Granville or Lord Rosebery will be asked to preside.

THE HUNGARIAN DIET.

Stormy Scenes Enacted in the Lower House During the Discussion of the Army Bill.

PESTH, Feb. 28.—A stormy scene was enacted in the lower house of the Hungarian diet to-day, the resumption of the debate on the army bill giving rise to a violent demonstration by the members of the opposition.

After several members had presented their objections, Tisza arose and attempted to reply, but his voice was drowned by a torrent of hisses and groans from the opposition. When order was in a measure restored the prime minister charged his opponents with attempting to draw the crown into a struggle and declared that the youths of Hungary had been led astray by false issues. He was repeatedly interrupted, and finally, amid a great uproar, the debate was adjourned.

STARTLING PYROTECHNICS.

A Disastrous Blaze at Charleroi, Belgium.

CHARLEROI, Feb. 28.—A fire started in the Haynin Brick Works yesterday, and spread to ten reservoirs of tar. They are still burning. The flames shot up to a hight of 100 feet and resembled the eruption of a volcano. The damage is estimated at a million francs.

CABLE NOTES.

The Czar Scandalized by His Brother's Conduct.

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 28.—It is reported that the czar is scandalized by the irregular life of his brother, and has ordered the Grand Duke Vladimer to resign the commandership of the guards.

Soiree to the Artists and Authors.

PARIS, Feb. 28.—At a soiree given to artists and authors to-night, General Boulanger said: "It is deplorable that France, who has not fired a gun for so long a time, should now fire on our friends, the Russians."

General Boulanger was the object of much attention from a large number of guests.

Prime Minister Crispi Resigns.

ROME, Feb. 28.—Prime Minister Crispi has resigned. He was to have spoken in the chamber of deputies to-day, but after the cabinet council he decided upon resigning in order to avoid the inevitable hostile action on the government measure providing for additional taxation.

The New Minister to America.

LONDON, Feb. 28.—The report of Sir Julian Pauncefote's appointment as British minister to the United States, is semi-officially confirmed. The press association says it has authority to announce the fact, and gives a sketch of the new minister's career.

Emin Pasha Again Victorious.

LONDON, Feb. 28.—A dispatch to the News from Cairo says: "A deserter from Wady Halfa reports that Emin Pasha has again vanquished the dervishes with a heavy loss in the Bahr-El Gazel province.

What a Fish Commissioner Says of the Governor's Last Veto.

ADULTERATION OF FOOD LAW.

The Board of Horticulture--Provisions of the Reform School Act--District Agricultural Societies--The Act to Promote Drainage

SALEM, Feb 28.--Fish Commissioner E P Thompson, speaking to-day about Governor Pennoyer's veto of the several fish bills, said: "The governor in his veto of the bill for the protection of salmon says that the close season is lengthened by that bill and implies that the present law allows only four months fishing. In making such statements he betrays his ignorance of the question. The present law prohibits fishing during three months and on the close Sundays for the four months. The law in Washington territory prohibits fishing for two months only. The probability is that the governor has never read the fish law, that he has acted as he did in the case of the Pendleton water bond exemption bill, which he signed two years ago without reading the constitution. This year on account of the political possibility which looms up in the far distance he read the constitution and vetoed the Portland water bond bill.

"The fish bill which the governor vetoed shortened the fishing time for Chinook salmon five days of each year and changed the time so as to let the early salmon pass up for spawning purposes, making the month of September a close time. The bill does not protect the run of Chinook salmon, but it does protect the silversides.

"The present law virtually prohibits the catching of silverside salmon, and it is therefore wrong. The silversides, while they are not a good fish for canning purposes, make an excellent fish for the markets.

"The bill the governor vetoed looked to the interests of all kinds of fish. It was not designed for any particular class of men. It did away with the excessive fines of the present law. It covered the entire state and could not be termed a local law. It required all mill owners to look out for their sawdust, and this may have hit the governor."

Oregon now has a law which is to prevent the production and sale of unwholesome foods and to regulate the sale of adulterated foods, drinks and medicines. Dealings in such articles are allowed when they are plainly marked so as to be distinguished from pure articles. If a restaurant sells adulterated foods and drinks the bill of fare must state this fact in type as large as that used in printing other articles on the bill, and if there is no bill, a notice stating that adulterated foods and drinks are sold must be posted conspicuously.

Stables, where cows used for dairy purposes are kept, must be well ventilated and kept in a good healthy condition. The cows must be allowed at least 800 cubic feet of air and none of them must be confined facing each other unless an air tight partition at least four feet high separates them.

Violations of these provisions are punishable by a fine of from $25 to $100 or by imprisonment in the county jail not less than thirty days nor more than six months.

Any person who purchases adulterated goods believing them to be pure will not be subject to prosecution, provided he pays the food commissioner the price of an analysis of the goods and properly marks them when informed of their true character.

Under the law an article of food, drink or medicine is deemed to be adulterated when any substance or substances have been mixed with it so as to reduce, or lower, or injuriously affect its quality or strength, if any inferior or cheaper substance or substances have been substituted wholly or in part for it, if any valuable constituent has been wholly or in part abstracted from it, if it is an imitation of or is sold under the name of another article, if it consists wholly or in part of a diseased, putrid or rotten animal or vegetable substance, whether manufactured or not, or in the case of milk, if it is the manufactured product of a diseased animal, if it is colored, coated, polished or powdered whereby damage is concealed or if it is made to appear better or of greater value than it really is; provided however that salt and annatto, or butter color in which annatto is the principal ingredient, shall not be considered an adulteration when used in dairy products. If it contains any added poisonous ingredient which may render it injurious to the health of a person consuming it.

Milk drawn from cows fifteen days before and five days after parturition or from cows fed on brewers' malt, is deemed impure.

Any one who uses the boxes or cans used by any creamery or dairyman for the purpose of selling the butter of any other creamery or dairyman, is subject to the fines provided in the act.

The law creates the office of food commissioner at a salary of $1000 a year. The republican caucus last week nominated Professor R K Warren of Portland, for the place, but at the time the joint convention was held the senate had not passed the bill, and the food commissioner was not elected. In the rush of the last few days of the session no one thought of calling for another joint convention to elect the commissioner.

A new law provides that mortgages may be discharged upon affidavit made by the holder before the county clerk or recorder of conveyances.

Owners of timber lands desiring to find a route to market for their logs and lumber now have authority to locate, open and maintain roads and chutes for lumbering and logging purposes, provided they make payment for lands condemned for such uses.

A much needed law and one which interests every person having the welfare of Oregon's fruit growing industry at heart, is the one creating a state board of horticulture. It had a stormy time in the house, and was defeated once, then the vote was reconsidered and the bill passed. The law, having been approved by Governor Pennoyer, went into effect February 25, the date of its approval. Much good is expected of this law. Fruitmen are of the opinion that it will have the effect of staying the progress of diseases of fruit trees and fruits and eradicating fruit pests.

The horticultural board to be appointed by the governor will consist of six members, one from the state at large and one from each of the following districts into which the state is divided:

First--Multnomah, Clackamas, Yamhill, Washington, Columbia, Clatsop and Tillamook.
Second--Marion, Polk, Benton, Linn and Lane.
Third--Douglas, Jackson, Klamath, Josephine, Coos, Curry and Lake.
Fifth--Umatilla, Union, Baker, Wallowa, Malheur and Grant.

The members of the board must be practical fruitmen. They are empowered to establish a central office where meetings will be held the second Monday in April and October. They also have authority to engage persons to lecture but without pay for the purpose of improving practical horticulture and instruction in the best method of the treatment of diseases of fruit and the extermination of orchard pests.

The board is invested with power to prevent the spread of contagious and infectious diseases among fruit trees and to eradicate fruit pests, and to appoint inspectors of fruit pests whose duty it is to see that the law is obeyed. The legislature appropriated $7000 to maintain the board until April, 1891.

Oregon will soon have what it has long needed--a reform school for juvenile offenders. For years the cry has gone up all over the state that the penitentiary and jail is not the proper place for the youthful criminal. The Chamberlin bill creates the governor, secretary of state and superintendent of public instruction a board of reform school commissioners to select a site and superintend the building of the school, for the construction of which and for its maintenance until 1891, the legislature appropriated $30,000.

When any minor under 20 years of age is convicted of a crime punishable by imprisonment in the penitentiary or in the county jail the court, if it thinks there is a suitable ground to the reformation of the criminal, may in its discretion sentence him to a term of not less than one year in the reform school. If any religious organization to which the boy or his parents may belong has a suitable institution for the care and reform of delinquent minors, and applies for the custody of the criminal, the court may commit the boy to the care of that institution. This provision was made at the request of Archbishop W H Gross, for the reason that the Catholic church is about to establish such an institution in Washington county for the purpose of taking care of Catholic children.

Boys committed to the school will be subject to discipline, and if the superintendent sees fit may be bound out with his consent, as an apprentice.

The State Agricultural College at Corvallis fared well this year, an appropriation of $37,500 being made for it by the Cauthorn act. Of this amount $30,000 is to be used for the purchase of land adjoining the college grounds and for the erection thereon of a building stocked with machinery for working in wood and metal, a model dairy barn, veterinary building, facilities for students and a students' hall, $5,000 for the [illegible] of the college and $2,500 to defray the expense of current litigation with the M E church, South.

Hereafter two terms of the supreme court, commencing on the first Monday in March and October, will be held annually at Salem and one term at Pendleton beginning on the first Monday in May. The judges are each allowed $1400 in addition to their annual salary for expenses. Their decisions will be printed by the state printer instead of being sent to San Francisco as has been the practice for about thirty years.

A state weather service is another of the creations of the legislature. This is the bill which United States Signal Service Observer Pague, of Portland, labored so hard and wasted so much sleep. Oregon's service will co-operate with the United States signal service in the collection and publication of climatic data to disseminate more speedily and thoroughly the United States signal service weather forecasts, storm and frost warnings and to establish in each county one or more meteorological stations. All reports of observations will be sent to the head office in Portland for compilation after which they will be sent to the state printer who will print 2000 copies. An appropriation of $2000 was made to carry the law into effect.

An appropriation of $3500 was made to authorize the secretary of state to purchase and distribute the fourteenth and fifteenth volumes of Oregon supreme court reports. He was also authorized to distribute and sell Hill's annotated laws, session laws and Oregon reports.

A little legislation was enacted for the newspapers this year. It is the law framed by Senator Veatch, and its object is to stop the practice which some newspapers have, that of sending papers to persons whether an order for the same has been received or not. Veatch's law provides that all such papers shall be deemed gifts and that no debt shall accrue from their receipt.

The legislature created three new district agricultural societies--two in Eastern Oregon and one in Southern Oregon. The first Eastern Oregon district is composed of the following members and includes the counties where they reside: J W Wisdom of Baker, John Lackey of Malheur, James Cozart of Grant, John McDonald of Union, and George Woodham of Wallowa.

Second district--Lehman Blum of Umatilla, Thomas W Ayres of Morrow, W S Thompson of Gilliam, C M Cartwright of Crook and James A Varney of Wasco. Fairs in the first district will be held at Baker City and in the second at The Dalles. For this purpose the state appropriates $1500 a year for each society, but the money must not be used for horse racing premiums.

The Southern district comprises the counties of Coos, Curry, Douglas, Josephine, Jackson, Lake and Klamath. The commissioners are to be appointed by Governor Pennoyer. Fairs in this district will be held at Roseburg. An appropriation of $1500 a year is made for this purpose. None of the money can be used as premiums for trials of speed.

The legislature did not forget the veterans of the Civil and Mexican wars nor the Indian war veterans who defended the white settlers of Oregon, Washington and Idaho against the hostiles in the early days. It passed a law empowering county courts to levy, in addition to the taxes now authorized, a tax not exceeding two tenths of a mill a year for the relief of the indigent soldiers, sailors and marines and their widows and orphans. The duty of disbursing the relief money is imposed upon commanders of Grand Army posts and of camps of Indian war veterans, who are required to make annual statements of their doings. In counties where there are no posts or camps the county court is authorized to undertake the relief. In counties where there are posts and camps the county court is prohibited sending veterans to the poorfarm. All such relief must be done at the home of the veteran when possible. An allowance of $40 is made to pay the funeral expenses of any veteran.

Hume's bill gives judges of circuit courts authority to appoint official reporters, who shall receive a salary of $10 a day for every day they are actually employed.

The act to promote drainage for agricultural and sanitary purposes provides that when one-half of the owners of lands susceptible to one mode of drainage and who represent one third in area of the lands, desire to drain the same, they may present a petition to the county court setting forth that they desire to adopt some mode of drainage together with a description of the land, the number of acres in the district to be drained, the number of acres in each tract, and the names of the owners thereof, and the names of three persons who may desire to serve as trustees for the first year. If the petition is approved the petitioners may make such bylaws as they deem necessary for the future appointment of trustees and to effect the work of drainage, keep the same in repair and operation, and for the control and management of the system of drainage by the vote or consent of the majority of the owners of the land in the district.

Here are two more road bill appropriations in addition to those reported yesterday:

For a road from the Nehalem river, in the north end of Tillamook county, to the Fuqua toll road in the south end of the county, and for a branch road from South Prairie to Netarts bay, $10,000.

To aid the county courts of Coos and Douglas counties to build a road on the middle fork of the Coquille river, $12,000.

This amount added to the $91,000 reported yesterday, makes $113,000 appropriated for wagon roads.

Benevolent or charitable institutions incorporated under the laws of the state for the purpose of receiving, caring for, educating or improving the condition of homeless, neglected or abused children, are according to a new law invested with authority to receive, control or dispose of minor children, when it is shown that the father of the child is dead or has abandoned his family or is an habitual drunkard or imprisoned for crime and the mother is an habitual drunkard or imprisoned for crime or is an inmate of a house of ill fame, or is a person of notoriously bad character or is dead or has abandoned her family or that the parents of any child have grossly abused, abandoned or neglected to provide for it or have grossly abused their parental authority over such child. In such cases the judge of any court of record to whom the facts are made known, may order the child surrendered to the society.

The normal school of the Wasco Independent academy at The Dalles will be a state normal school when Smith's bill becomes a law.

County clerks are now required to provide district school clerks with assessment blanks similar to those furnished county assessors. This law is now in effect, it having been approved by Governor Pennoyer.

County courts are authorized to maintain ferries on county roads.

The Dawson law, which is now in force, prohibits the sale of tobacco, cigars and cigarettes to minors under 18 years of age, without the written consent of the parent or guardian, and if there is none the consent of the county court must be obtained. The fine for violating the law is from $20 to $50.

A new law authorizes United States surveyors to enter lands for the purpose of exploring, triangulating, leveling, surveying and doing any work necessary to carry out the objects of existing laws. The owner of the land must be reimbursed for any damage that may be done, and if the amount cannot be agreed upon by the parties interested, the county court may be appealed to to make a settlement.

THE DISTANCE TO SAMOA

TUALATIN, Or, Feb 27

To the Editor of The Oregonian

To decide a dispute will you please state the distance, according to best authority, from San Francisco to Honolulu, also from Honolulu to Samoa, and oblige. SUBSCRIBER

[It is 2080 miles from San Francisco to Honolulu and 2810 miles from Honolulu to the Samoan islands.]

SELLING CIGARETTES TO MINORS

FOREST GROVE, Feb. 27

To the Editor of The Oregonian

A merchant at this place is anxious to know whether he violates the law should he sell cigarettes, etc to a minor under 18 years of age. A bill was introduced to this effect and met with the governor's approval. INQUIRER.

[The dealer is liable unless he has the consent of a minor's parents.]

TAKING UP TIMBER LAND.

MULLEN, Idaho, Feb 27

To the Editor of The Oregonian

Will you please give the law as regards taking up timber land. I think it does not affect Montana and I supposed it did not Idaho until I saw that Attorney-General Garland referred to Idaho in that connection. W J CLARK

[The law applies to all states and territories alike.]

THE POSTOFFICE DEPARTMENT

LONE ELDER, Feb 26

To the Editor of The Oregonian

Will you please decide through The Oregonian a dispute, namely: Has the postoffice department at any time paid its own expenses? M ROSENDORF

[Yes. The last year when it did so was 1883, when the revenue was $45,508,692 61, and the expenditures were $43,282,944 45.]

THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

PORTLAND, Feb 28

To the Editor of The Oregonian

Why is it that a man living in Washington, D C, has no vote? CURIOUS

[Residents of the District of Columbia did have the electoral franchise until 1874, when congress took it away from them. Before this time the district was badly managed, large sums of money were voted away and a big debt accumulated. The government was asked to assume this and it did so at the same time taking control of the little district. All its affairs are now managed by a board of commissioners. A political residence in Washington does not deprive a man of his residence or his right to vote elsewhere.]

IMPORTANT TO ATHLETES

James Robinson, the athletic trainer at Princeton College, Princeton, N J, says:

"I have found it imperative to have sure and simple remedies on hand in case of cuts, bruises, strains, sprains, colds, rheumatism, etc. Shortly after entering upon my profession I discovered such a remedy in ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS. I tried Benson's Capcine and other plasters, but found them too harsh and irritating. ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS give almost instant relief and their strengthening power is remarkable. In cases of weak back, put two plasters on the small of the back, and in a short time you will be capable of quite severe exercise. In 'sprint' and 'distance' races and jumping, the muscles or tendons in the legs and feet sometimes weaken. This can be relieved by cutting the plaster in narrow strips, so as to give free motion, and applying on muscles affected."

LAID PEACEFULLY TO REST.

Remains of Three Honored Pioneers Committed to Mother Earth Yesterday.

Funeral of Dr Atkinson--Fitting Discourse--Obsequies of M F Mulkey and J C Cartwright--Resolutions.

There is a Reaper whose name is Death
And with his sickle keen
He reaps the bearded grain at a breath
And the flowers that grow between
--Longfellow

Leaves have their time to fall,
And the flowers to wither at the north wind's breath
And stars to set--but all
Thou hast all seasons for thine own, oh Death!
--Mrs Hemans

The funeral of Rev Dr George H Atkinson was held in the First Congregational church yesterday morning at 11 o'clock.

People began to come in long before the hour set for the solemn and impressive services, and when the remains arrived every pew was occupied except those in the center facing the pulpit which had been reserved for the relatives and intimate friends of the deceased.

The church was tastefully decorated with a choice collection of tropical plants in pots that permeated the air with a rich but subtle perfume. Standing against the wall at the right of the pulpit platform was a large cactus, to the left a ficus elastica of the same size. A large marguerite having at least several hundred blossoms, and a stately camellia, next and were followed by palms, century plants, calla lilies and a large variety of tropical foliage plants and ferns completely encircling the pulpit platform as a wreath.

Shortly after 11 o'clock the remains were brought into church, Rev T E Clapp preceding them and the family of the deceased, pallbearers and intimate friends following. As they entered with slow and measured tread the organ pealed forth a soft low funeral dirge. The relatives and friends took the seats reserved for them in the center row of pews and the pallbearers consisting of H W Corbett, C Shindler, A S Frank, C H Day, Henry Failing, James Steel, A Hinman and J H D Lownsdale, took seats to the extreme left of the pulpit.

The casket was placed just in front of the altar. Upon it were laid a number of beautiful floral pieces and loose cut flowers. A sickle, a pillow and a cross made of heliotropes, smilax, hyacinths, freesia refractas, camellias and primroses were very beautiful.

THE FUNERAL SERVICES

The services were opened by singing the first four stanzas of No 19 of the Gospel Hymns, after which the Rev Whittlesy, of the Plymouth Congregational church offered prayer.

Rev Staver, of Forest Grove, read from the fourth chapter of Hebrews and the first three verses of the fourteenth chapter of Revelations.

The choir sang another selection and then Rev T E Clapp, pastor of the church, delivered

THE FUNERAL DISCOURSE

Both fitness and the preference of personal affection have led us to select a part of the 13th verse of the 14th chapter of Revelations: "And he heard a voice from heaven say unto him: write 'Blessed are the dead that die in the Lord from henceforth, yea, saith the spirit, for they rest from their labors.'" The thoughtful student must always be impressed with the peculiar emphasis of this utterance. You remember it starts saying "he heard a voice," there is nothing to identify it. It is a good voice because it comes from heaven. It is an authoritative voice or it would not be allowed to speak, but without its identity, it flows along, "Blessed are the dead that die in the Lord henceforth," and then, as if there might ever be doubt about its identity, and as though the voice would have its identity known in order that through it there might come an immortal emphasis, it says, "Do you know who I am? I am the Spirit. I am God."

So we are bidden in the light of it to feel that God always rejoices when one of his children dies. We weep, but God is always glad. And then as if he would say to us "You wonder why I am always glad when one of my children dies. I will tell you. There are a great many good reasons, but the chiefest and choicest of all to me is that my child in death rests from his labors." Indeed, dear friends, it is very affecting to the students of the Bible to find how much God has always made of rest, when he is thinking of us. Examining your concordance, you find that the word occupies a very large space. It is a good thing through the medium of the concordance to compel yourselves to see how much God thinks of some things, and you would be affected when you find that God calls your attention to it almost in the first chapter of the Bible. You remember how it reads, in the second chapter of Genesis: "And on the sixth day God finished his work, and he rested on the seventh day, and God blessed the seventh day and hallowed it because in it he rested from his work." Why did he tell us that? We know that he did not need any rest because he fainteth not, neither is he weary. Why then, did he tell us as one of the earliest of things that he rested and hallowed the day because he rested? What else could it be, my friends, but the glancing down through the long centuries and heart in such sympathy with all the weariness and toil and anxieties that would load down his children, and load them down all the more because they were his faithful children--because the hardest workers in the universe are the men who live closest to God and try most to do God's work--as if, I say, glancing down the centuries and remembering these things he hastens before men begin to sweat and toil and bear burdens, to give them this word rest, that it might have a place in their vocabulary, that they might become familiar with rest before even they began to work. And then too how tender and sacred does it make us feel when we see the manner in which he put the word into our vocabulary. Instead of giving us a precept, saying,

"YOU SHALL HAVE REST"

He simply acts it. He pictured this as an object lesson, for the highest way God has for teaching us is to give us an example. He does it and so he rested. And then it always seems to me as if he would say to himself: "Now even if I tell my children to rest, they will think that I will look down upon them as saying this is childish. It is foolish for them to be pretending to be tired and weary," and so he throws all around that act of his--this act of resting--the immortal halo of his own example, thus forever sanctifying the day because he rested on it, as though he would make men feel that there was nothing so sacred, when one has done a good day's work, as rest. Even then he does not insist upon breaking our lives into fragments of seven--six days to work and the seventh on which to rest. And you remember he said nothing about hallowing the six days, but he does hallow the seventh to rest. And so he leads us on, teaching us as he does, while the years and the centuries roll on, and gradually it dawns upon our minds that this division of our lives into work days and rest days is not an end, but only a means to an end, the symbol of a still greater reality. In the letter to the Hebrews that my brother read this morning, moved by the Holy Spirit, the writer says: "There remaineth a rest. You have not had it yet. You have had foretastes of it, but it is yet to come," and into all the unborn centuries the eye of Christian hope looks forward and says, "Where is it? It is yet to come." And then it is

IN FULL MORNING SPLENDOR

Upon us, as our brother lifted by that strange voice lifts up his eyes and gazes up through the heavens and hears those words of the text: "Blessed are the dead that die in the Lord from henceforth, yea saith the spirit, for they rest from their labors." So God has taught us to look upon these earthly lives of ours as the six days and upon the life that lies for his people upon the other side of the grave as the Sabbath, the rest. Hence it seems as if he had said to us: "There are a great many charms, my children, on the other side, and I know them every one by name, but of all the charms, there is none so dear to the heart and so dear to the heart of your Father in heaven as this charm and blessing of rest." So it seems to me to be the meaning of the text, and now we are called upon to-day to take this truth and wrap it around this casket, to apply it to the life of our dear brother. Now it seemed to me as if in this way God bids us listen and hear the still small voice saying, "Blessed is he, dead in the Lord, for he rests from his labors." From his labors. There is no good in resting except as a cessation from labor. The loafer has no rest. The man who toils for six long days knows the rest of the Sabbath day, but the idler, to him it is nonsense. So God would have us remember that it is true, as I said in the beginning, that the truer our life is, the more toilsome, but the more anxious and oppressed it is as we are trying after higher and holier things, things that test us the most, and the best qualities of the soul. He who lives nearest to God is, in this world, the most tried, but there is something of this to be thought of in

CONNECTION WITH OUR BROTHER

He rests from his labors, for they were his labors. I rest from [illegible] and the words seem to be very eloquent as I apply them to him.

Of his labors this is no place nor time for me to attempt an outline of them. But I wonder whether any of you will think me invidious if I say that his labors, taking them all in all, stand as the best record thus far of any in the history of your state and his. In unwearied devotion, in indomitable industry, in varied learning, in patient self sacrifice, in high motive, in pure philanthropy, in loyalty to God, in eminent usefulness, in forty unbroken years all in all, can his activity be matched thus far in our history? And measured by the highest standards, does he not rise before us as thus far the most eminent citizen of Oregon? I say again, I do not know whether you will question it, for I am not familiar with all the noble lives, and I ask you to remember that I said take it all in all, and I leave the challenge as I have thrown it out. For no single year did he turn aside at the call of wealth or ambition; doing a great work he never came down from it, but went right on in Christ's name, and after Christ's perfect wisdom and method, serving his generation according to the will of God, and now, like David he has fallen asleep. Turned hitherward to our Pacific coast, not by choice but by providence, as it hath been with so many eminent men of God, they do not find the fields they choose, but they find the fields selected by a higher wisdom; but, having found them, he, like those men, stayed where God put him, and so it came to pass that right here upon this North Pacific coast our brother poured out the sunshine and the rain of his forty years of service. Oregon alone has measured it, and I need not tell you that, though God shut him up to the coast, he never begrudged it. His duty soon grew to be a labor of love to him, because he loved Oregon. Nay, he did more than love it. I doubt if in all the state there hath lived a pioneer who believed in Oregon as he did. How his heart swelled and his face glowed as he would talk to us about her future, and few men had the intelligence to talk about her and her future as he had. There was nothing about her mineral resources, her capacities in the way of commerce or manufactories or agriculture--in short, nothing about it that he did not seem to have known and to have learned by heart, like a story or poem that one loves. He loved everything that promised advancement, he loved to think of these rivers full of shipping, our valleys full of grain, our mountains full of ores, and our banks lined with factories, the valleys full of people numbered by the million, but people following commerce, manufacturing, agriculture, everything and fulfilling them to the glory of God. This was the

GREAT DREAM OF HIS HEART

That spurred him on to the end of his life. His motto was always "Oregon for Christ and for Christ through all the channels of public and private activity," and who but the recording angels and God will ever know how many anxieties, tears, prayers, thanksgivings entered into this solid forty years of labor. There is a difference between work and labor. Work stands for the energies concentrated on the work, but labor stands for the pain it costs to hold those energies in their place and to keep them busy, the pain of mind and heart and body, of faith and courage, and I say it cost him much to keep those energies steadily and persistently turned on this one spot for nearly half a century. It cost him pain bravely endured, shared by a loyal and loving wife and children. It cost him the inevitable anxieties born of long and slowly maturing plans. It cost him grief and everything of bereavement when [illegible] again and again took home the children. This he bore, in the midst of them all he stood for his post without faltering, without flinching, and not knowing until within a few last lingering hours how near his fight was fought, his race was run, and his faith was kept, and how nearly in the celestial sunshine he stood, with the jewels of his crown within the touch of his tired hand.

THE LAST OFFICIAL ACT

Of his life was an anxious one. It was an attempt to make a rough place plain in the way of the Lord and in the doing of it he laid down his life. In what is now so pathetic and precious to me, our last personal interview only a few days ago, he showed me plainly, without giving you the topic, that we were discussing, how the thirst for rest that God intended was becoming more and more intense and imperative to him, and it began to look so sweet to him to find some places and times in his work that were welcoming him to begin, and now it has come differently from what we expected. He rests from his labors, he is at rest.

TO THE CITY OF THE DEAD

At the conclusion of the discourse Dr J T Ellis, of the Forest Grove university, offered prayer and singing by the choir, "Rock of Ages, cleft for me," closed the ceremonies.

The lid of the coffin was then removed, and the congregation were given an opportunity to look for the last time upon the face and form of their deceased brother.

The funeral procession took up the slow line of march toward Riverview cemetery, where the remains were placed in their last resting spot. A large number of friends of the deceased accompanied the remains in hacks and carriages to the cemetery.

THE LATE MARION F MULKEY

Appropriate Services Held Yesterday Afternoon--Eulogy by T N Strong

The funeral of the late M F Mulkey took place from the family residence at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, the services being conducted by Mr E C Bronaugh. A large number of members of the bar and other friends of the deceased were in attendance.

The coffin was covered with flowers and in a stand at the head was a large and beautiful wreath with an anchor in the center. There was also a beautiful pillow of white flowers with a letter "M" in the center in purple immortelles.

A quartet sang "Come Unto Me," and at the conclusion, Mr Bronaugh read the fourteenth chapter of Job beginning, "Man that is born of woman is of few days and full of trouble."

He then spoke of the difference in the consolations offered by the New Testament, and read from I Corinthians chapter xv, and other passages bearing on the mortality of man, and the resurrection and life beyond the grave.

He then spoke of the uncertainty of life, and necessity of being prepared for death and the comfort of looking forward with an eye of faith to the time when He who holds the keys of life and death shall return to gather to him our loved ones.

He spoke of the rectitude of the departed in his business transactions with his brother lawyers, saying that they could trust him on all occasions, and his word was as good as his bond. It was not necessary to go over his history, his life was a part of the history of the city.

Many of us knew him well. He said "how little of comfort words can give under these circumstances." Mr Bronaugh was much affected and tears came to the eyes of many as he committed the family of his friend to the care of God and advised them to look forward to the grand and glorious reunion spoken of by all the prophets and which is not far distant. Our time must soon come and what is all this world to us if we forget that there is another beyond.

The quartette then sang "I would not live alway." The friends then took a last look at the remains which presented a most natural appearance and then they were removed to the hearse. Hon R Williams, Hon Joseph Simon, Judge L B Stearns, Henry McGinn, J C Moreland, W T Newberry, A H Sears jr, and D W Yocum acted as pall bearers.

A long procession followed the remains to River View cemetery, where the interment took place.

IN MEMORIAM

At the meeting of the bar yesterday afternoon the following resolutions of respect to the memory of the late Mr M F Mulkey were presented and adopted:

Inasmuch as the summons of Almighty God has called from this bar to the eternal bar of mercy and justice our professional associate and brother, Marion F Mulkey, who departed this life on the 25th of February, 1889:

Now, therefore, we the members of the Portland bar, desiring to testify our respect to the memory of the deceased and our regard for his many able qualities of mind and intellect and estimable traits of character, do resolve,

That in the death of Marion F Mulkey the bar of Portland and the state has lost a member whose ability was always found equal to the heavy demands made upon it, and who in the performance of the arduous and responsible duties devolving upon him was just and fearless, indefatigable in effort, cogent in argument and courteous to court and counsel.

That by his untimely demise in the prime of his years, this community, in which he had so long lived and labored, has lost an energetic and enterprising citizen and his family a provident and affectionate head.

That we tender to his family our sincere and heartfelt sympathy in their affliction and the assurance that we will with them affectionately cherish his memory so long as we be spared to do so.

That as a mark of respect the supreme court of this state, the circuit court of the state of Oregon for Multnomah county, and the federal court of this district, be requested to cause these resolutions to be entered upon their respective records, and that a copy neatly engrossed be presented to the family, and that the members of the bar attend the funeral in a body.

MR T N STRONG'S TRIBUTE

Mr Thomas N Strong then delivered the following eulogy upon the life of the deceased:

Your Honors, Gentlemen of the Portland Bar: In presenting to you the report of your committee and moving its adoption, I am desirous of adding some remarks of my own and thus you will allow me, for it is natural and proper that here on such an occasion we should speak freely the thoughts that so rarely find expression elsewhere. In a man's lifetime he necessarily keeps his inner life away from the world, and the world upon its part is generally very careful not to express the kindly feeling it so often has. So when a comrade steps out of life's marching columns, faces him to that mysterious river that flows so close along our line of march and disappears in the mists that shroud its further banks, it is well for a moment to call a halt--to gaze with wistful eyes down the shadowy path, and to speak the kindly words of the departed that are suggested by the circumstances and his personality.

A well known man has left us and that with comparative suddenness. A few weeks ago no one would have selected Mr Mulkey as the one for whom we should so soon perform this melancholy duty. He seemed well and rugged, just [illegible] to enjoy the fruits of a labor [illegible]. In the prime of life, in the full assurance of accomplished professional success, with an assured career filled to overflowing, and with all that a man could reasonably desire, his soul has been required of him.

When nearly fifteen years ago, a mere boy, I timidly launched myself upon a professional career, Mr Mulkey was already a man of assured position. Since then I have met him often, not as intimately, perhaps, as some of you, as many of you have, but professionally and in the courts. He was a man of tireless energy and perseverance, resolute and patiently working until his object was accomplished, and this was the secret of his success. This is the secret of the success of every lawyer who ever attained any success that would abide in this struggling and hard worked profession of ours. He had consistency of purpose, prudence and common sense to balance and guide the energy that impelled him. There was no frittering away of his powers upon alien pleasures or pursuits, and so the ends he sought he attained. His life as he planned it was a success.

It is pleasant here and now to bear tribute to the kindly feeling that prevails among lawyers. Their contests are open and professional, and the very fact that such contests are open to them serves to fix firmly their relative positions, and to avoid much of personal bitterness. In court Mr Mulkey was a troublesome antagonist, and one to be feared, for if there was a weak point in the case he would discover it, a flaw in the logic, he would mercilessly expose it. His own case, as his duty was, he would present in its fairest colors, and commend to court and jury in every way open to the shrewdest of counsel.

In these fifteen years I cannot recollect any act of discourtesy on his part, or any word spoken even in the heat of conflict that left aught of bitterness behind. The last time I ever spoke to him was to exchange some pleasant banter regarding a cause in which we were adversely interested, and so we parted as we commenced, friends. His busy, eventful and successful life on earth is over. But is this all? And was he but a piece of cunning mechanism, that evolved within itself heat and life and love and aspiration, and then ran down forever? God forbid. We cannot affirm exact knowledge of matters that are beyond human understanding, but in full faith and confidence in the revealed word and, following the dictates of reason and the deepest and most sacred instincts of the human soul, we believe and are persuaded that the voice that called him was the same that for the centuries past has been calling to earth's tired millions: "Come unto me, all ye who are weary and heavy laden and I will give you rest," and that the spirit of our friend has passed through this gateway of death into that upper realm, "those high ancestral spaces this dust above," where the Son of man pleads for the human race he loved so well. In the care of the great advocate we leave him and God grant to him and us in our respective times a good deliverance.

Mr Strong was followed by Mr J W Whalley, who paid a brief but eloquent tribute to the dead attorney.

DUST TO DUST

All That Was Mortal of J C Cartwright Consigned to the Grave

The funeral of the late J C Cartwright took place from the family residence at 2 P M yesterday. The services at the house were conducted by Rev Ross C Houghton. The remains were buried at River View cemetery, a large number of friends following them to their last resting place.

MEETING OF THE BAR.

In department No 1, circuit court, yesterday morning, Julius C Moreland announced the demise of Hon J C Cartwright. He stated that while Mr Cartwright had not been in practice for some years by reason of ill health, yet when he was an active member of the profession he was honored and highly respected as a lawyer. He therefore moved the court to appoint a committee of five to express the sense of the bar relative to his death.

Judges Shattuck and Stearns then nominated Messrs J C Moreland, Richard Williams, A H Tanner, A F Sears jr and Joseph Simon as such committee.

RESOLUTIONS.

Mr Moreland then presented the appended resolutions of respect to the memory of the late Hon J C Cartwright:

Resolved, That in the death of Hon John C Cartwright the bar of this state has lost an honored member, the state an honest, useful and loyal citizen, and his family their loving, trusted head.

Resolved, That we tender his afflicted family our sincere sympathies in this their hour of bereavement.

Resolved, That a copy hereof be spread upon the journal of this court, and an engrossed copy be transmitted to his widow under the seal of this court.

J C MORELAND,
JOSEPH SIMON,
A H TANNER,
RICHARD WILLIAMS.

Upon their adoption he paid the deceased a fitting tribute, in which he was followed by Judges C B Bellinger and Shattuck, when the meeting adjourned.

LIGHTNING CURES.

Three Prominent People Publicly Proclaim Positive Relief and Cure by Electricity.

To Whom it May Concern: Through the testimonials which appear in almost every paper of the state praising Drs Darrin for their skill in curing and relieving the afflicted who call on them I am happy to say I have at last found a road to health. I have suffered for years with kidney complaint, causing great pain in my back, and extending down the sciatic nerve at times almost unbearable, also loss of vigor, energy and courage. I had about given up that there was any help for me, when I met Dr Darrin performing his lightning cures. Now, after a few weeks of his electro magnetic treatment, I feel almost like a boy and perfectly free from pain, and with a few more treatments I am confident he will make a perfect cure of all my sufferings. If any one suffering from any curable disease will give the doctor a trial, in my judgment you will be entirely cured. I cheerfully recommend them to the afflicted. Respectfully, J W KEENEY
Long Creek, Grant county, Oregon

Remarkable Cure of Deafness

To the Public: Having for several years been gradually growing deaf, and in one ear very deaf, and the other going the same way, after much hesitation and without much faith of being helped, I called on Dr Darrin. Now after two weeks treatment my hearing was so far restored that I could hear plainly. I attended church and the music and words came to my ears so plain and distinct that I was overjoyed and felt like a good Methodist would at a camp meeting, just like shouting, but knowing with what dispatch Oregon officials do business I kept still, fearing they might have me in the insane asylum before night. I shall ever feel that I owe Dr Darrin a debt of gratitude aside from the money value. The doctor is at liberty to use this for the benefit of those who are afflicted.

Total Deafness Cured by Electricity

To the Portland Public: Nine years ago I commenced loosing my hearing from the effects of catarrh and finally became totally deaf in one ear. After trying many remedies to no effect I was attracted to Dr Darrin by his advertisement, and though I had little faith in him I was persuaded to try the new remedy by electricity, and thanks to its efficacy and the doctor's skill in applying it I am cured and can hear a whisper, and the ringing noises have all ceased. I am now a thorough convert to the electric treatment and gladly subscribe my name thus publicly. Address or call on me at 347 Sixteenth street, Portland, Or, for particulars.
MRS F M COOKE

Dr Darrin's Place of Business.

Drs Darrin can be consulted free at 235 Fifth street, corner of Main, Portland. Office hours, from 10 to 4 o'clock daily, evenings 7 to 8, Sundays, 10 to 12. The Oregonian.

PORTLAND, FRIDAY, MARCH 1.

THE CONSPIRACY AGAINST PARNELL

The story of the tory conspiracy against Parnell and its lame and impotent conclusion in the flight of the forger and perjurer, Pigott, is one of the most romantic episodes of modern history. The details are worth reciting.

The London Times charged Parnell with a guilty knowledge of, and complicity with the actions of the dynamite and dagger faction of Irish anarchists. The Times offered in proof of its charges certain letters, which it claimed were written by Parnell. These documents were produced before the English judicial commission by Mr Soames, a solicitor, who testified that he received them from Mr MacDonald, the manager of the Times. Mr MacDonald testified that before publishing these letters ascribed to Parnell he had consulted only a single expert, and yet he admitted that he paid $12 500 for these imperfectly authenticated documents

The Times manager bought and published these letters, despite the fact that the envelopes were lacking in which the letters imputed to Parnell and Egan had been enclosed. The Times manager further testified that he never asked the vendor of these important letters where he got them. The vendor of these letters was a Mr Houston, the secretary of an Irish loyalist society. Mr Houston bought the letters of one Pigott, an impecunious creature, who was so destitute as to jump at an offer of $5 a day for pay and expenses for the dirty work of a spy. Houston bought these alleged Parnell letters of Pigott without testing their genuineness before paying for them, and actually borrowed the money demanded by Pigott for the letters without any effort to establish their authenticity. The solicitor of the Times, its manager, MacDonald, and Houston, all appear to have fully trusted to Pigott, whom they knew to be a bankrupt, [illegible] to vouch for the authenticity of the letters.

But the moment Pigott was subjected to cross-examination by Parnell's counsel, he broke down, and was proved to be a spy in the British secret service, a forger and an [illegible] scoundrel. The evidence that Pigott was an oldtime forger and rascal was so complete, and his confusion so hopeless, that he took to flight, and is now a fugitive from justice. The Times has made elaborate apologies to the public and to Parnell in its columns, but its case has completely broken down, and the Parnell party is immensely strengthened in England from the natural sympathy felt for Parnell as a man who has been most unscrupulously persecuted and maligned by a corrupt tory press and party.

A curious fact in Irish history is that Irishmen like Pigott have never been wanting who were willing to betray the cause of Ireland for thirty pieces of silver. Grattan Curran and O'Connell have all borne eloquent testimony against the Irish informer

FORESTS OF OREGON

The lumber trade of Puget sound is much talked about, and to hear all that is said one would imagine that the Sound country held in its grasp all the good timber in the Pacific Northwest. Shingles are made and shipped all over the Eastern country. Lumber is sawed for all imaginable purposes, and their pine, cedar, spruce, tamarack, fir and their excellent hard woods are subjects of eternal eulogy and of newspaper notices. But while the Sound country can turn out splendid lumber, and does do so, in what respect does it surpass Oregon? Most of the area of Clatsop, Columbia, Tillamook and all the region down the coast to the California line is covered with all these sorts of growing timber and the Coast and Cascade mountains are a treasure house of magnificent forests of the finest trees and of majestic size and growth. The state of Oregon has oceans of growing forests capable of turning out lumber for all the uses known to the arts. Besides those common varieties we can furnish immense supplies of sugar pine, that is preferred to all other varieties of the pine for finishing woods. It has a beauty when well varnished that makes it a choice wood for doors and finishing work. Then the white cedar that has been procured from Port Orford possesses beauty and excellence combined of unusual quality. These are not all: the myrtle forests on the Coquille and elsewhere in Southern Oregon, with the cabinet maple that grows everywhere in Oregon, the laurel, which has the peculiar yellow bark so conspicuous; the alder, that receives a fine polish; the oak and ash so common yet so excellent, these and yet others constitute better and greater wealth of forest than our neighbors of the Sound country can possibly furnish. Oregon can furnish the world with building material as excellent as any grown on the coast, and in quantity above estimate, and in greater variety than can be furnished anywhere else on this coast.

ANOTHER TEST CASE FROM IOWA

The supreme court of Iowa has decided that intoxicating liquor shipped into the state cannot be sold in the original package or otherwise, but as soon as it reaches its destination in Iowa comes under the prohibitory law of the state. The Iowa prohibitory law prevented the transportation of liquor into the state, but this was set aside as unconstitutional by the supreme court of the United States, and the decision just announced will before long come up before the great federal tribunal for approval or disapproval. The Boston Herald says

The question which the supreme court of the United States will be called upon to decide is whether this is not one of those state laws which are unconstitutional because they interfere with the rights of congress. Section 8, article 1 of the constitution of the United States, vests in congress the power to regulate commerce with foreign nations and among the several states. If for purposes of its own, a state can decide that merchandise sent into the state from outside of its borders cannot be sold it will readily be seen that the power to regulate interstate commerce would rest with the state, and not with congress. If intoxicating liquors can be kept out by state interdiction, it might be equally easy to keep out other commodities.

We fancy that the United States supreme court will hold that if a state can thus take it upon itself to interfere with interstate commerce for one reason, it can for another, and that it is the interference, rather than the causes which have led to it, which renders the act unconstitutional. Should the supreme court at Washington pronounce against the decision of the supreme court of Iowa, it would be necessary for the prohibitionists, if they desire to secure the ends they have in view, to amend, not the constitution of any one state, but the constitution of the United States.

THE PROJECTED CABINET

All reports agree in naming Blaine as Harrison's secretary of state and Windom as head of the treasury. THE OREGONIAN has heretofore on many occasions expressed its estimate of Blaine. Of Windom it is but just to say that his career as secretary of the treasury under Garfield was successful and creditable. He accomplished the refunding of the 5-20 bonds into 3 and 3½ per cents in spite of the vigorous opposition of Mr Blaine, who tried to dominate with his ideas every department of the administration. Harrison could not get Allison, and Sherman would not serve in a cabinet to which Blaine belonged. McKinley would not leave the house for the cabinet. Windom, in the house and the senate, was conspicuous for his ability in all matters of fiscal legislation. Next to Sherman and Allison, Windom was the ablest and most intelligent financier in congress. He has been conspicuous, also, [illegible] the subject of interstate commerce. General John W Noble named for secretary of the interior is not a politician but he has a splendid record as a patriot and as a lawyer. He was colonel of the Third Iowa cavalry during the war and was distinguished for gallantry and ability under General Wilson. He was educated at Miami university with Harrison and at Yale law school and he is known to-day as one of the ablest lawyers at the St. Louis bar. During the great railroad strike of 1877, when St. Louis was threatened with violence and bloodshed by anarchists and communists, General Noble took a prompt and active part in arming and organizing his fellow-citizens for the maintenance of order and for the enforcement of law

[illegible]

Every firm with an extensive trade in Foreign Dry Goods, and in a position to transact their purchases on a Cash Basis, deals directly with the Manufacturer and Importer, and to do so advantageously must be permanently represented at the center of commerce.

These transactions for the present season terminate about the first of the year, enabling far off houses to display the New Styles simultaneously with the leading firms in New York, and to secure the choicest Novelties imported.

Our position on this most important point is well known, and the many Novelties shown by our house so early in the season substantiate this most effectively. Some time after all our regular Spring purchases had been made, our Mr Lipman purchased in addition some fifty cases Foreign Novelties in Silk and Woolen Fabrics, the terms being exceptionally tempting.

These goods are here, and while exceedingly choice, are at present a "SURPLUS STOCK" which we are determined to dispose of at once.

TO DAY and TO MORROW we display these goods in both of our windows. On Monday next and following days we will sell them.

All are Fresh, New, Attractive and Desirable Colorings and Combinations the Very Latest. The Wool fabrics Warranted All Wool. The Silks Guaranteed Pure Silk.

In Silks:

100 pieces Surah Silks in, 45 new shades, at 45c a yard.
62 Pieces Figured India Silks, all new combination, 50c a yd.

PORTLAND AND VICINITY.

THE WOULD-BE SUICIDE WILL NOT DIE.—Dick Timmons, the young man who made an unsuccessful effort to commit suicide Wednesday night by taking a combination of morphine and penknife punctures in his room over the Telephone restaurant, on First street, was yesterday resting easy and suffering but little pain from the wounds inflicted with his knife. Dr Giesy, the attending physician, says that the would-be suicide will be all right in a short time. Only one of the wounds extended through to the cavity, the others being mere scratches. The lady who keeps the restaurant is at a loss to know what to do with her sick charge. None of the hospitals will take him without pay, and as he has no money he is left on her hands. She says she is not able to take care of him and pay for his attendants, but as he appears to have no relatives or friends here he will either have to remain where he is or go to the poor farm. He came to the restaurant about a week ago destitute and was given work. An effort was made to look up Bertie Robinson, the woman through whose perfidy Timmons wanted to take his life, but it was learned that she had left the city. Mrs Hogeson, the woman at whose house she had been staying, stated to a reporter that she (Bertie Robinson) had tired of Timmons's attentions three or four days ago, and had taken a trip to the country.

OPENING OF BIDS.—Bids were opened at the office of Otto Kleeman, architect, yesterday for a brick stable which Mr M Rosenblatt proposes to erect at the southwest corner of Fourth and Stark streets. The building will be two stories high and will cost about $10,000. The lower story will contain an office, barbers-room, carriage-room, and stalls for sixty-eight horses. The second story will have four living rooms, large buggy repository, a hayloft and stalls for eighteen horses. The bids were as follows: For brickwork and excavation—McBride & Owens $4249; W. B. Steel & Co. $474...; Palmer $5900; T. P. Wood, $6210; A. Hoomissen $6..6; E. Robinson & Son, $647.; C. Lucas $6600. For carpenter work—Reid & Co., $3904; E. J. Strahan, $3778; C. G. Wilson, $4000; C. Goenig, $4025; Holbrook & McKenzie, $4000; A. Muir $4050; Walker & Sons, $5000; E. Sparno $...3. For galvanized iron: W. H. More, $872. Painting—Zimgiebel, $195; Sheehy Bros. $270. Plumbing—... Church & Co. $879.

BUILDING AT CLACKAMAS.—Wylie C. Chapman, of Clackamas, stated to a reporter that the quietude of that little burg is being aroused by a mild boom and that spring is there opening with several buildings under course of construction. The Clackamas brass band of twelve pieces is about to commence the construction of a music and dance hall 32x60 feet. Dr J. H. Hickman has completed his drug store and has it already filled with a good stock of drugs and medicines. Collins Beebe has built the second grocery store and on a lot bought by J. Davis and a young man from Oregon City will be erected a building that is to be occupied by a meat market and still another grocery store. Captain Wilson is building a residence on a tract of land across the track from the railroad station. It appears that Clackamas is beginning to feel the impulse of the boom that is extending in all directions from Portland.

THE SOUTHERN PACIFIC REMOVAL.—The last of the clerks transferred to the San Francisco offices will leave Saturday or Sunday for their new positions. They include Mr F. O. Heintz and two clerks. A number of those who have already gone on have been heard from and express themselves pleased with the change. The new departures will augment the list of changes to fifteen. The transfer of the auditor's department of the company will give more room in the headquarters building, which it is proposed to utilize as follows: The land office will go down stairs occupying Mr Andrews's old place. The ticket office will be enlarged through one or perhaps both of the lower rooms on the north side of the building; this will throw the purchasing agent up on the third floor. The second story remaining as it is, the whole of the building will thus be utilized.

DIDN'T WE TELL YOU SO.—The ties and iron are being distributed on Hawthorne avenue; the bridge is to be built from Hawthorne avenue to Madison street, and the first motor to enter the city of Portland will be the handsome one from this line. It will be noiseless and very superior in make. The first man who purchased lots in Second Electric addition paid $360 each (for two of them). He has since taken a third lot at $500, making an increase of $140 a lot (in three months). He seemed willing to pay the advanced price as in his opinion (and he is a business man on Front street) all of the lots will be worth from $700 to $800 each as soon as the cars are running. Ten dollars down and $10 a month without interest is an easy way to get a lot and is within the reach of all. The Portland Real Estate Company ... Washington street.

A DRUMMER'S LOSS.—Mr Henry ..., a Chicago commercial traveler, is considerably annoyed by the loss of his pocketbook en route from San Francisco. When he left the bay he carried a book in his hip pocket containing $450 in currency and a letter of credit for $500, more and other valuable papers, which he ascertained to have lost upon reaching his hotel here. In the Gilman house yesterday he informed a reporter that he is confident of not having had his pocket picked because "I'm too old a traveler for that," added he. His theory is that he must have dropped the book out of his pocket while undressing in the sleeper and some one subsequently picked it up and forgot to return it.

LARGE LAND SALE.—A deed was filed in the recorder's office yesterday of sixty acres of land belonging to John Kier and situated north of the Penumbra Kelly place near the Powell's valley road in south East Portland. This is without exception the sightliest piece of land on the East side and affords a view that cannot be surpassed. The purchasers were Drs Kenneth A. J. Mackenzie, Holt C. Wilson and William Jones and the consideration in the deed is $70,000. The sale was made by Russell & Macleod, real estate agents. It is the intention of the purchasers to divide the property into blocks and put it on the market at once.

ARRESTED ON THE GANG PLANK.—Alex M. ...ald, who keeps a saloon at Second and ... streets, was arrested last night as he was going on board the San Francisco steamer, on a warrant sworn out in Justice Phelan's court by a Mrs ..., a sister of McDonald. He is charged with perjury in obtaining money under false pretenses, the ... apparently of a family row. Mr M... ... age the saloon he runs for a syndicate of ... capitalists and manage it so well that he owned it at the end of two months. He will have examination in Justice Phelan's court to-day.

DECISION TO BE DELIVERED.—Private dispatches received here yesterday from Washington state that the decision in the case of the Oregon Railway Company vs. the O. R. & N. Co. will be delivered in the United States supreme court Monday, March 11. The opinion was to have been delivered long ago but has been delayed on account of the sickness of Justice Matthews. It is supposed that Justice Matthews has turned the matter over to some of the other justices as it is said the decision will be delivered this time without fail. It will be a very good thing to have this matter settled one way or the other.

HOSPITAL SERVICE.—Dr F. C. Hugh..., who is superintendent of the Northern Pacific's hospital system, has been in the city for a few days looking over the ground with a view to making arrangements to establish a hospital service for the company's lines in Oregon. After visiting the hospitals and consulting a number of physicians, arrangements were made by which the Good Samaritan and St. Vincent's hospitals will take care of the sick and injured employes of the company, the expenses to be borne by a monthly contribution of ... cents from each employe regardless of position ...

Also ... character masks ... for the masquerade this season ... the ... for prizes in the Turners' arrival ... session (masquerading) of the Turn Verein takes place to-morrow (Saturday) night at Turn hall. All Turners and their ladies are respectfully invited to attend.

TIT FOR TAT.—Several days ago Emil Welber caused the arrest of Frank Dowling on a charge of using abusive language. For some reason the case has been continued from day to day until this afternoon, when the case will again be called and probably disposed of. Yesterday afternoon Dowling swore out a warrant for the arrest of Emil Welber, on a charge of gambling, so that at present each has a charge against the other. It is a stand off with the exception that Welber is charged with a more serious offense than is booked against Dowling.

ANOTHER INSPECTION.—The office of the government inspectors was the scene yesterday of another inspection of a collision. It was the little affair of the Traveller and the Lurline, which occurred on the 9th of the present month near St. Johns. Captain Gray, Engineer N. S. Shepard and Mate John C. Randall of the Lurline, Captain W. J. Buchanan of the Traveller and a passenger offered testimony and the matter was taken under advisement. The impression prevails that little if any blame can be attached to either party.

MEDICAL ALUMNI MEETING.—The alumni of the medical department of the Willamette university had a reunion at the college building, corner of Fourteenth and ... streets, at 8 o'clock last night. Mrs. Dr. M. H. Whitney presided and brief addresses were made by Drs. B. H. Hand and M. H. Whitney of Portland, Dr. F. C. Humphrey of LaCamas, W. ... and others. An hour of social conversation followed the speaking. The next meeting will be held at the same place on the night of March 14.

PROPOSES TO ENLARGE.—The Gray's harbor trade is evidently thought to be very promising for the coming season. It is stated on reliable authority that it is the intention of the owners of the Alliance to considerably enlarge and improve her upper works. The house will be moved forward and the works generally remodeled. Necessity for increased accommodations for passengers is the cause which prompts the improvements.

ST. PAUL'S METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH—formerly Hall street.—This evening, March 1, the ladies will give a basket luncheon with fine musical programme.

Parties wishing nicely furnished rooms can find the same at the St. George, corner First and Columbia.

Ask Rowley Chrysanthemums at Burkhardt's, ...

GRAND SHOE SALE.—Preparations of extraordinary magnitude are under way at 9 Selling & Co.'s for an immense shoe sale to begin on Saturday morning. In the center of the department over 200 samples ticketed in plain figures will be displayed. During this sale the celebrated Jack and gents shoes will be introduced. They are made of genuine calf and are far superior to the Douglas or the James Means. Price $2 50.

ARRESTS FOR FEBRUARY.—The following arrests were made by the city police during the month of February: Drunk 98, disorderly conduct 18, larceny 6, forgery 1, vagrancy 7, defacing a building 1, assault and battery 4, obtaining money under false pretenses 1, trespass 3, abusive language 4, soliciting prostitution 2, murder 1, running the streets 4, insane 3, gambling 1. Total number of arrests, 155.

GAVE BONDS.—Isaac E. Bories, an upholsterer working for A. E. Matschek, was arrested yesterday by Deputy U. S. Marshal Waite on a charge of sending an obscene letter through the mails, preferred by N. Danziger. Bories denies the charge and says some one has been putting up a job on him. He gave bonds in the sum of $500 to appear before U. S. Commissioner Paul R. Deady this morning for examination.

VERY SLIGHT BLAZE.—The alarm from box 34 at 11 o'clock last night was for a slight blaze on the roof of Pat Carney's house, 219 I street, which was extinguished with a bucket of water before any fireman got near enough to see it even through a telescope. The ever vigilant and alert Officer Hickey, who turned in the alarm, was sentenced by the firemen to sixty days and a reporter added thirty days.

HANDSOME MODEL.—Mr A. G. Sondstrem has placed on exhibition in the government inspectors's office a handsome model of the hull of a proposed vessel to carry about half a million feet of lumber or 1000 tons, on a draft of sixteen feet. Mr Sondstrem also has supplemented the model with deck plans, etc., which have attracted no little favorable comment on the part of local navigators.

DEATH OF E. L. ESPEY.—Mr Edward L. Espey, the well known artist, died at his residence No. 2? Montgomery street at 1:45 this morning after a lingering and painful illness of over a year. He leaves a wife. His ailment was a very rare one known as Hodgkin's disease of the glands, which is pronounced incurable and of which so far as known this is the first case occurring here.

INDIANS IN TOWN.—The Tacoma Indian brass band from the Puyallup reservation will give an interesting entertainment at the First Presbyterian church at 7:30 o'clock this evening. The exercises will consist of speaking, music, singing in both the native Indian tongue and Chinook, and other novel features. The band will parade on the streets this forenoon.

LECTURE TO-NIGHT.—Rev Dr Ross C. Houghton will give the second lecture in his course for this season at Grace church, corner Eleventh and Taylor streets, at 7:45 this evening. Subject—"The language, schools and literary examinations of China." The lecture will be preceded by a short musical programme. Admission free. All are welcome.

THE FOURTH PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH of South Portland is greatly encouraged at the success already attending the special services which are being held there. Mr Gamble, the evangelist, preaches the gospel with great power. The meetings will be continued from evening to evening through the week.

MR R. B. CURRY, real estate dealer, informs us that he has received of late quite a number of calls for large tracts of land both in Oregon and Washington—timber lands especially, and in consequence advertises this morning to let those who own such tracts and wish to sell know where to list them.

BANK STATEMENT.—By a special dispatch from Messrs. A. S. Pratt & Sons, National bank agents, Washington, D. C., it is learned that the comptroller of the currency calls for a statement of the condition of the National banks at the close of business February 26.

AN EVIDENCE OF PROSPERITY.—The Quimby house is full to the eaves. This house has grown in popularity daily since Mr. Quimby assumed the management, and the present demand for rooms is something unprecedented at this season.

JOHN M. PITTENGER, the Albina real estate agent, has opened an office at 112 First street. Any one wishing to buy or sell lots in Albina or any of its additions should give him a call. See his ad. in another column.

OPEN AT LAST.—The much-spoken-of cloak and suit house of Mellis & Co. will be ready for business this day at 1?? Third street. Ladies desiring fine work will hereafter know where to leave their orders.

CHANGE OF TIME.—On and after the 1st of March and until further notice the steamer Alarm will run as per regular time card leaving on her last trip Albina at 6:30 P. M. and Portland at 6:45 P. M.

STEAMER FOR SAN FRANCISCO.—The steamer Columbia will sail for San Francisco at 8 P. M. to-night instead of midnight as usual.

PORTLAND, FRIDAY, MARCH 1.

THE NEW PRESIDENT.

General Harrison started Monday afternoon for Washington amid the cheers and good wishes of his friends of both parties He has reached Washington safely and calmly awaits his inauguration, which will take place on Monday next

General Harrison assumes the presidency under great advantages He is conspicuously strong where the departing president is weak Cleveland was the candidate of a great party, and yet his selection was made on the ground of availability rather than of tried and proved public capacity The mugwumps of the Empire state would vote for Cleveland, and straightway Cleveland was nominated—Cleveland with his licentious private character, his professional mediocrity his political inexperience and obscurity, his unpatriotic record during the civil war But he is now to be succeeded by a man of splendid stock Harrison's great-grandfather signed the Declaration of Independence, his grandfather won Tippecanoe and the battle of the Thames and was elected president in 1840 The son of President Harrison was a man of patriotism and showed his devotion to the Union and his son was an able and steadfast Union soldier while Cleveland was one of the fire in the rear copperheads of that agonizing time

Benjamin Harrison goes to the White house with the reputation of being a pure man both in public and private life he goes there with the reputation of having been a gallant and capable soldier, a total abstainer from all alcoholic liquors and a most tactful public talker.

General Harrison is likely to make an excellent president. His personal morals are excellent; his professional reputation is that of an able lawyer who refused to get rich at the expense of his professional honor He has from youth up been a religious man He did not wait until he was forty five to affect piety, when it was only infirmity In the springtime of his youth and manhood General Harrison from principle was an upright man, temperate and chaste. He did not rebuke his fellow men by whooping for impracticable prohibition legislation, but he set his fellow citizens a good example

Wisdom is not always granted to every good man and true, but it is a comforting reflection that the president of the United States who succeeds Cleveland will be a gentleman of moral refinement and sound culture, a man whose public and private life is fragrant of good works well wrought It will not be necessary to fumigate and deodorize the White house when President Harrison leaves it.

AN IMPORTANT FUNCTIONARY.

The new steward of the White house is Hugo Ziemann, a German by birth and a Parisian by training. He will have a salary of $2500 a year and his perquisites will amount to as much more He will have a horse and buggy for his personal use and will be lord high chancellor, so to speak of the administration kitchen, the small army of employes therein being under his immediate supervision and orders

The eclat that attended his departure from Chicago for Washington a few days ago proved that honors are not monopolized by those who preside at state dinners He was attended to the depot by a grand procession of bar-tenders and waiters who were made hilarious by champagne and lively by brass music. Perhaps throughout the entire array of government employes who are expecting to be displaced through change of administration there are none more anxious than those who are found in the White house kitchen Not that politics proper reaches the domain of roasts and soups and fricasees, but the new steward does, and, as a matter of course, he has his friends who are eager for the chance to tickle the palate of the president and make his administration famous for good things to eat Inasmuch as Cleveland's administration has been a grand success in the way of feeding hungry diplomats, the new steward may find it to his advantage to resist the pressure of importunate friends and extend the principles of civil service reform to his savory domain

If, as is frequently asserted, a man is what his cook makes him, the man who butters the president's toast, boils his eggs and prepares his coffee holds a place of no mean responsibility Let us hope that the new steward, while he reflects credit upon Mrs Harrison's ability to make a success of official feasts, will see to it that a cook is employed who knows how to steer the president clear of headache and dyspepsia, consequent upon eating indigestible food.

NOT A JUDICIOUS RESOLVE

For several days past it has been reported that General Harrison in his inaugural will absolutely decline to be a candidate for a second term. We trust this report is not true, because it is not a wise declaration to make in advance of events No man can positively predict what four years of national life will bring forth and such a purpose as that attributed to Mr Harrison would be premature imprudent and indiscreet Suppose Lincoln in 1861 had made such a declaration (and had he made it he would have stood by it) how disastrous to the interests of the nation would have been the fulfillment of such a resolve! When a man consents to become the leader of his party by becoming its candidate for president he is bound not to abandon that party in its hour of need It is quite likely at the conclusion of President Harrison's term that he will be the strongest man in his party so strong that with his name thrown out it would be difficult to find a standard bearer who would unite all factions of the party Such a declaration therefore, as that attributed to Harrison ought to be reserved until the close of his term. If at that time it should be evident that any sound, able republican statesman could carry the country Harrison could satisfy his desire for private life but if events should take an unexpected course if a foreign war should arise if the settlement of foreign complications and quarrels should make the Harrison administration popular it would be exceedingly desirable to use this popularity to secure another republican victory No president ought to make any declarations of the sort attributed to General Harrison in advance of events If the welfare of his party and of the country demanded his renomination at the end of his term the party ought not to be embarrassed by any positive refusal of a renomination at this time.

A Southern merchant, William R Moore of Memphis shows the benefit derived by the South from protection by contrasting the prices of a bill of goods sold by his firm to William White of Fernando Mississippi on May 9 1860 under a low tariff with the prices of the same goods in 1888 under a much higher tariff

ARTICLES	Price in 1860	Price in 1888
4 pieces ⅞ brown shirting	8¼	5c
8 pieces 4-4 brown sheeting	8½c	6c
3 pieces brown drilling	9½c	6½c
2 pieces black and white prints	10c	[illegible]
1 piece furniture prints	10c	[illegible]
1 piece red oil prints	[illegible]	[illegible]
No 600 1 bag cotton yarn at	18c	7c
No. 400 1 bag cotton yarn at	18	[illegible]
1 piece 10-4 sheeting	45c	[illegible]
1 piece blue and white cotton plaids	12½c	6c
2 pieces plain prints	10c	[illegible]

Mr. Moore offers these figures as a complete demonstration that a protective tariff especially benefits farmers while benefiting labor and capital employed in manufactures He closes his statement as follows

For the above bill of 1860 we then took in exchange middling cotton at 8½ cents per pound. The price of middlings in 1888 was between 9 and 10 cents a pound. Under that low tariff we bought all our plaids and similar things of Northern mills Under the present high tariff we buy every yard of our plaids, jeans, sheetings, drills and similar goods in the South and from Southern mills. The same rates of reduction apply to almost everything used now by the farmers of Mississippi.

The New York Sun thinks that every Southern farmer who reads these figures ought to demand of Mills of Texas an explanation or an apology The lame and impotent conclusion of the Cleveland Mills crusade is thus described by the Philadelphia Record, an honest advocate of tariff reform in the direction of free trade

After devoting an entire session to fruitless discussion, stirring up old antagonisms and engendering new animosities, and confusing the public mind by a multitude of conflicting theories, the ways and means committee of the house of representatives has come out of very nearly the same tariff reform hole which it entered at the beginning

The boy emperor of China, a yellow almond eyed lad under the tutelage of his mother was married a few days ago The occasion was one of more than regal splendor and the amounts expended in banqueting decorating and making rich gifts were almost fabulous Millions of miserable subjects of the imperial bridegroom are starving in the provinces This only suffices to show the difference between royalty and the hands that toil for its maintenance It is by no means confined to heathen lands, its counterpart in kind if not in degree being an accompaniment, if not a feature of Christian civilization of the old world The wretched condition of the Irish poor, and the splendor in which the descendants and kins people of the English royal house live is a familiar example of this Heathen or Christian royalty must be magnificently caparisoned and daintily fed No matter about its subjects

NOTE AND COMMENT.

The governor has a happy way of expressing disapproval, yet not setting the seal of disapproval on a bill executively He keeps his veto for state occasions The high license bill and all the wagon road bills are laws without his signature, but what's the odds? Does he not know that silence speaks consent? He cannot shift the responsibility of those wagon road bills that became laws nolens volens They were allowed to walk the track unopposed by veto, and the governor has them to answer for as much as if he had signed them.

Near Yakima the other day a "brake beam passenger" lost his grip as the train swung round a curve at a smarter pace than usual, fell on the track, and his future rides trouble him no more Corporations have no souls, and it is ten to one the heirs of this poor man are put off without a dollar to comfort them Neither will the warning be heeded to make the brake beam accommodations safer and more comfortable The remains, or more correctly speaking, the remnants, will be buried in some obscure corner of a potter's field, and the only moral that can be drawn is for brake beam passengers to hold on tight

All humane people should have sympathy for soon-to-be President Harrison Just now a days he is listening to and hears nothing but requests for office. Everybody wants something That distich about man's wanting but little here below is a lamentable failure Man wants and strives for much, and is a creature that can appropriate all he can get. Office seeking is a degrading practice that causes total loss of common sense in some cases and loss of common decency in others If you have a friend who wants an office, try mild means to break him of the habit and if clubs won't do, like the farmer in the fable of Esop, throw stones at him.

Talk about the flood of immigration to Washington territory why the Sound is being rapidly deserted and east-bound trains are loaded with deadheaders who are leaving the territory never to come back to territorial serfdom and vassalage. They smell the flavor of statehood afar off and are gone to secure the crumbs of comfort that politicians pick up when the political cake is cut This horde of officeseekers go East with chalked hats and their baggage chiefly made of slates for filling the offices (and it is claimed that Washington can furnish slates enough to roof their new state capital) They all expect to come back chief cooks and bottle washers for the new state.

The Voice, the organ of the prohibition cause complains bitterly that by some means the republican managers during the recent presidential election, by hook or crook managed to buy up its subscription list. There is a great deal of talk about dishonorable means and methods and dishonest ways of running politics, and this Voice utters a feeble wail on this account. Well, what was the difference? Did the prohibitionists want their readers to read nothing else, know nothing but what they prescribed? Was it a case of ignorance and bliss combined? If they had confidence in their principles could they believe that free reading would spoil their voters? No, indeed, not if it were a case of principles worth having.

Some of the old people who were here forty or more years ago lived in hope of some time seeing a railroad and hearing the whistle of the locomotive echo over the hills of Western Oregon They have lived to see that day and more than that are puzzled to keep track of the many railroads and branch lines that are being constructed to meet the requirements of our times One can scarcely take up a newspaper published anywhere in the Pacific Northwest without reading of some new railroad project that has been started somewhere or other to go to the relief of some section where the products of the soil cumber the earth and the people are groaning in distress because they have not transportation at command

Whether it is the street car line, the presence of the legislature the new bridge or the influence of Governor Pennoyer, Salem is growing at a respectable rate. One real estate transaction will explain Some parties bought the old Walker farm that adjoins North Salem, at $90 an acre some months ago This month they sold forty acres at $125 an acre There have been other sales of property in town and near town, that show improved confidence and increased population The country about there is valuable and rapidly changing hands large tracts of land being divided up into small farms for fruit and vegetables If this is continued it will be the making of both town and country

Anthony Comstock has again undertaken the task of demonstrating that there is no difference before the law between a nude work of art and an obscene picture In New York city he has threatened to arrest the managers of the German hospital fair because they persist in exhibiting a nude statue which is described as a thorough artistic study At another city in New York state he has caused the arrest of men and boys engaged in making obscene pictures and selling them to school children The results will be, of course the conviction of the picture makers a line of reform in which Mr Comstock is dignified aggressive and effective, and a good advertisement for the German hospital fair, a line of art reform in which Mr Comstock is nothing short of ridiculous

When Judge Edgerton was invited to resign as civil service commissioner he asked the cause why, and was told there was no cause—nothing against him "Then," blurted out Edgerton "why do you tell me to resign?" Cleveland said rather offensively "Because I want to make a place for my friend Hugh S Thompson" Now, this was aggravating and even mean on the part of Cleveland but he had shown confidence and respect for Edgerton in keeping him in office so long The Judge made a mistake when he sat down and boiled over a philippic against Cleveland It may have all been true and probably was true but for a man of his position it was not proper nor dignified Edgerton did not resign and Cleveland exercised the executive power of removal

The true way to secure immigration and make a country prosper is to be able to sell land at a fair price and cut up great farms into small ones The money to be made here in Oregon by agricultural pursuits cannot be made by trying to farm on a large scale but by selling off land in small tracts especially land that is located near towns, or suitable for fruit growing One man can make money off twenty acres, because he can do much or most of it without hiring and by gardening growing small fruits and orcharding his crops will be of the remunerative kind Even if engaged in ordinary farming it is possible to make more clear money off a quarter of a section than has been made from a whole section as commonly done Diversified farming is all that can pay To grow wheat after wheat will not pay

Michael Shreck is seeking damages over $10,000 from Whitman county W T his complaint now on file in that county's court It seems that Mr Shreck got into trouble and was required to give bonds to keep the peace Not being able to give bonds and they fearing to let him go at large, he was put in the county jail of Whitman county Now this county jail seems to have been in a very bad sanitary condition decidedly unfit for any man to encounter, according to ordinary hygienic law The air and water were bad as well, and this incarceration, he claims ruined his health so that they had to release him to prevent his death from so doing The complaint states that he was a robust man when incarcerated there and a physical wreck when released and asks, as some compensation for his suffering, $10,000 damages. He may recover damages unless, unfortunately, his health shall entirely recover before the trial, in which case appearances will be against him

A few years ago the North Pacific railroad rushed along over a wild and rather dry looking region, as viewed from a summer aspect, and Sprague was a station on the line Sprague has grown and prospered and shows that there is a good country somewhere round about there A few years are gone by and Sprague's newspaper tells that they have got a creamery company there and will soon have the creamery itself in operation Aladdin, the hero of the lamp in the Arabian Nights entertainment, had but to rub the lamp and put a little polish on, when a genii would bob up serenely and ask what job he wanted done next. There was nothing beyond the ability of the genii of that Arabian lamp and about the only thing the spirit of the miraculous did not do for his master was to build and equip a modern creamery and stock the country around with 500 cows Yet this is what some good genii seems to have done for Sprague enterprise is what builds a town and Sprague has enterprise

There is nothing mean about Senator Plumb when he compliments the administration of the navy department, and is happy in doing so It is to be regretted that the different branches of Mr Cleveland's administration cannot all receive such warm praise but they do not. This compliment of Senator Plumb to the secretary of the navy may have some foundation in fact, but it does not seem to fit in well with the earlier years of his administration and the way he treated John Roach, as good a man as ever lived, when he broke his heart and ruined his fortunes in his old age and sent him to his grave prematurely by denouncing the Dolphin, which is now known to be one of the finest ships afloat Mr Plumb said he was glad to say that this department had been given a stimulus in everything that went to the upbuilding of the navy, to the procuring of the best type of ships and to the stimulation of the highest type of manufactures, but more than all that, to the encouragement of the individual genius of the people and to the doing of the work not in the navy yards where political considerations might have influence, but in private yards

The Spokane Record suggests what all people and journals located near reservations will indorse that as immigration pours in there will be the chance to diminish the size of many of these reservations to make room for white men It says the Colville reservation contains 2,800,000 acres, and there are but 400 Indians This is 7000 acres to every Indian Of course it will be necessary to reserve land for many Indians who run at large and eventually must make homes there The natives cultivate but little only a few acres to a family, and 160 acres for each family is all the arable land they should be allowed and 80 acres for single men and women There should be enough rough land left for range for all but even if this were done and even if a thousand acres total was allowed to every family, there would be six sevenths of the land unoccupied The time has come when Indians must earn their own living and be self sustaining They are beginning to realize this fact and General Miles, who understands Indian character well says that by good management and wise influence they can be made more and more civilized and self supporting

At the recent banquet in New York, to commemorate the birth of Samuel J Tilden, a friend of Tilden told the story of the drawing up of the electoral commission bill, by Abram Hewitt, who brought it to Tilden and read it to him Tilden said all the advantage was in his favor, and opposed the trying a "new fangled idea" but Hewitt said he didn't come to him for advice, but to let him know what they were going to do Tilden thought they should have consulted him, as the party chiefly interested He denounced the electoral commission as a lottery scheme When it resulted in the presidency of Mr Hayes Tilden told his friend, who repeated this story at the club the other evening, that Hewitt deceived him or he would have been president of the United States The speaker, as Tilden's warmest friend, closed with these words

"You, the members of the Tilden club, owe it to yourselves, to your party, to the memory of Samuel J Tilden, your great leader, to see to it that the man who deceived him and betrayed you shall go down to the place that he so richly has earned, as the more than Judas Iscariot of his generation, for he, not satisfied with his work in 1876, duplicated it in 1888."

Agriculture is the great resource by which our country grows and prospers, and it is by agriculture that we maintain our position among the nations. It is true that manufactures are progressing and increasing but it is due to agriculture that we have a market for what the manufacturer offers the world It is unnecessary to follow the subject further, for intelligent minds need no reminder of such practical truths The erection of the department of agriculture to be a cabinet office puts agriculture at last on a permanent footing as entitled to the greatest consideration. The question now is if the farmers of the United States will be willing to accept this honor in a good spirit and act on a basis of intelligence and growth to equal their opportunity The secretary of agriculture needs the assistance of intelligent farmers everywhere to work harmoniously and in unison with the different colleges and experimental stations and through farmers' institutes to give the result of personal effort and experimental tests If the bill appropriating half a million to assist the holding of farmers institutes shall pass congress then Oregon will have quite a sum at its disposal, probably as much as $6000 per annum which will prove a great help to an agricultural college in that respect

St. Petersburg and the Baltic will soon be connected with the Pacific by a magnificent line of railroads to be constructed through Siberia It was not so many years ago that books were published to excite the sympathies of all youth concerning the wretched fate of those who were exiled to that dreadful country It was as if the world was taught to believe that one grand scope of territory was for thousands of miles all composed of deserts and mountains mountains of snow and rugged hights and desolate plains and abominable terra firma, with frozen winters and torrid summers as could only have been made for human crimes But human endeavor has traveled through Siberia and found there all the resources necessary to human prosperity and happiness The old story that waked youthful souls of The Exiles of Siberia will be forgotten when the iron track is laid from the Baltic to the Pacific and 4000 miles of rail shall at last connect those briny seas The world moves, and erelong Siberia will put forth means for enterprise and great cities will represent millions of prosperous people Russia can some time have hundreds of millions of population, and with her seaports on the Baltic the Mediterranean the Black sea, the Indian ocean and the Pacific will discount the naval powers of the entire world

Murray Hill is creme de la creme of New York for social rank and exclusiveness, but even the highest tone of social New York requires a change and must have some excitement Lately this aristocratic quarter of Gotham has been invaded by the tinkling cymbals and rattling tamborines, the scarlet streamers and loud hosannahs of the Salvation Army The headquarters of the Salvationists were crowded with recruits from Murray Hill, and dirty, noisy Reed street was enlivened by their presence It is said the drawing looked on amazed Street gamins were open mouthed and girls who work for a living were astonished The highest toned feminine world furnished recruits and the very select strove to become the elect after this modern phase of salvation Beautifully dressed women, who wore rich dressings of hot house flowers at their waists and whose fingers, necks, and arms were decked with jewels, were playing among the salvationists their hands bent in unison with the plainly clad and the rough handed Murray Hill had a sensation and exhibited its riches and beauty in the humble quarters of the Salvation army "How long, oh Lord how long will these daughters of fashion and queens of society be content to play the saint, even in all their pride of gems and dress? How soon will they obey the scriptural injunction, and wear sackcloth and ashes

We read that an elevator company has been incorporated with the purpose to erect thirty large elevators at different points on the railroads and at the terminal localities Heretofore wheat on this coast has been handled in sacks and hauled and taken in this way to all parts of the earth This manner of handling grain has been peculiar to the Pacific coast It has its advantages, but the cost of the sacks is a heavy item of expense for they seldom last two voyages, and this detracts 3 or 4 cents a bushel from the value of wheat The elevator system pours wheat into cars, and the cars are weighed exactly as a wagon would be Vessels are in trim to load this way and wheat is dumped in or goes in through shutes It is much easier to load and unload grain in this manner and if people are accustomed to it and all means of transportation are well adapted then wheat corn, rye, oats and barley can all be shipped in bulk. There are difficulties as in case of the wreck of a train, the grain may be scattered In case of a heavy storm at sea the grain shifts and makes it more dangerous for the ship by being listed to one side To obviate this vessels are built with partitions, or temporary arrangements made to prevent any too serious shifting of cargo If the grain of the country can be handled in bulk on long voyages, and not heat or injure in the tropics it will be a decided advantage over all other methods

A gentleman from Polk lately said in the legislature that funded bonds are evidently to take the place of the government bonds and with the issue of which the people have long suffered Probably he is one of the people (now that he has got in a body) and the rest of the public should beg of him to tell how he has suffered by this issue of non taxable government bonds Would he have suffered less if the bonds instead of 4 per cent interest had drawn ? Have these bonds held by banks at 3 per cent, done him any injury? How has he suffered or how much" The gentleman from Polk should show his qualities as a financier by explaining this sapient remark and giving the facts If he has suffered, and the people have all suffered with him, it has been a case of "suffer and be strong," for certainly we have, since these bonds have been issued and despite them, grown to be a greater nation than ever and stronger and richer Paul said he was going well "despite them bonds" and the United States resemble the apostle in that respect The gentleman from Polk is one of the people and he has prospered so as to be elected to the legislature, which shows no great suffering, save that there is a species of suffering that comes from having a representative of the people talk such folly The government bonds are a sacred debt that came from efforts to save the Union, and no patriot can forget that fact The bonds being held by national banks insures us the safest banking system in the world

BUSY PORT TOWNSEND.

New Buildings, Manufacturing Establishments and Strangers Constantly Arriving.

Victoria and Its Opium Trade—The Hunt System of Railroads Described—Various Towns That Are Benefited by Them

PORT TOWNSEND Feb 27—Nothing in Italy can surpass the beautiful weather on this part of the Sound and the Straits of Fuca for the past few days While the old settler and the newly arrived immigrant is reading of blinding blizzards in the middle and Eastern country, the air here is balmy the sky a clear blue, and snow visible only on the lofty peaks and crags of the mountains One of the specially favored places of the Sound as to climate is Port Townsend The rain which falls so continuously in the winter in the upper Sound country and around the Gray's harbor region, appears to refrain from soaking the port of entry and vicinity with the same percentage of moisture Perhaps it is the wind howling up and through that majestic gateway to the sea the Straits of Fuca, which drives the clouds to the southward Certain it is that on this peninsula, between Discovery bay and Townsend bay, the windows of heaven are frequently closed when open elsewhere twixt the Cascade range and the Pacific coast People from the eastern section of country have stopped shivering when they look at a map of this extreme northwestern end of the United States They shiver now at the cold winds and drifting snows at home and make up their minds to emigrate Good climate accounts in a measure for the great influx of strangers to the Sound country One can hear on every side "Do you have such winters as this every year Doesn't it ever snow heavily here My! what charming weather"

Port Townsend is comparatively just as alive with busy strangers as Tacoma or Seattle Real estate agencies are springing up at every corner new buildings, some of them manufacturing establishments are in process of erection the town is doubling its population and the stretch of coast from Point Wilson to Port Angeles is filling up rapidly with newly arrived settlers Upwards of 100 people alone have gone to Angeles during the last three weeks and the little steamer Evangel is overtaxed every trip in carrying freight and passengers to that point. A new house every day has been the average building there since the boom began

At New Dungeness the town is also beginning to feel the effect of good climate seekers In fact, Clallam county people are not a whit behind the Jeffersonians in their desire to welcome strangers and give them land at reasonable figures to develop this wonderfully fertile country Motor lines, not only projected but the work begun on them, tell what faith the people of Port Townsend have in the future of the town, and the grading and laying of the rails of the Port Townsend Southern railroad has begun and is now going on for some miles southward of the town—a line that is to open the route from the Straits of Fuca to the Columbia river and develop a country filled with minerals, timber and sites for thriving towns, backed by agricultural resources

It would be well for the navy yard commission in their hunt for a site for a great naval dock yard on Puget sound to remember that Port Townsend looks out on the sea, and that nearly opposite to it is the nucleus of an immense British naval station that only needs the wealth of a leading empire of the earth to develop it into one of the greatest navy yards of the future Esquimalt, a few miles from Victoria, is on the southern end of Vancouver island This immense island is a British possession, stretching southward into American territory for a hundred miles Although Vancouver island is surrounded by water, it is about the same as if a wedge of British land along the Canadian border, anywhere from Port Moody to Montreal, had been allowed to extend into Washington, Idaho Montana, Dakota or several of the other border states.

Esquimalt has a splendid stone dry dock—finished two years ago—larger than the one at the Norfolk navy yard in Virginia, and it has also a naval station in the bay of which is now riding a nicely fashioned British gunboat. In the naval station under cover, are two small torpedo boats. Next month the flagship of the British Pacific squadron is expected The whole place, in its present form, is insignificant as a navy yard, although it is a splendid harbor It shows to Uncle Sam that Great Britain always prepared for war in time of peace When this nation begins to build a navy yard on Puget sound it will doubtless do better than Esquimalt as it now exists, and it probably could find no better site than on Port Townsend bay or the bay back of it and nearer to the ocean called Discovery Both are roomy and sheltered

Victoria across the straits and in sight of Port Townsend, is the prettiest city in the Pacific Northwest and it is the deadest, except in the opium trade. Three thousand of its twelve thousand inhabitants are Chinese, and every Chinese merchant does a heavy business in the deadly drug Where does it all go to? may be asked That is easily answered when it is remembered that the duty on the prepared drug is $10 per pound if it comes into the states How easy and how cheap it is to buy the opium in Victoria ship it along to any point on the Canadian Pacific railroad and cross over the border at thousands of unprotected and unwatched places Two old whisky barrels full of the smuggled opium caught the other day at Tacoma are to be reseized today in charge of the customs officers Where did it come from First from Victoria then along the Canadian Pacific to some point and down to Spokane Falls from where it was shipped for San Francisco via Tacoma and Portland Three hundred pounds of it would bring $3000 in San Francisco at $10 per pound, the selling price We little know what is passing through the freight with chinese as legitimate goods and it is only now and then that such an important capture illustrating the extent of smuggling, is made One of the Sound papers charges that the business was carried on very extensively some years ago and that many a rich old codger now working the boom in the Sound towns laid the foundation of his wealth in smuggling opium from Victoria I sauntered into a Chinese merchant's store in Victoria last Saturday Seated on the floor around a huge wooden bowl sat two or three celestials filling up small tin cans with the molasses like preparation another was weighing the cans and still another pasting labels on them A big fat Mongolian was buying forty cents worth at the counter to take home and smoke.

"What is the Hunt system of railroads in Washington?" asked a friend some days ago I learned from one who is thoroughly posted that the Hunt system as constructed and now operated consists of 171 miles of railroad the initial point being Hunt's Junction, located one mile north of Wallula Junction, on the Northern Pacific The Pendleton division extends to Fulton Or a distance of thirty four miles A branch extends from Stanton Junction to Centerville, a distance of fourteen miles The road after crossing the Walla Walla river four miles from Hunt's Junction enters Vansycle canyon which it ascends with a maximum grade of 116 feet per mile the head of the canyon being twenty miles distant from Hunt's Junction Fulton, the present terminus of the Pendleton division, is six miles from Pendleton, to which town the road will doubtless be extended this season

The Walla Walla division extends from Hunt's Junction to Walla Walla, a distance of fifty three miles, crossing the Touchet river, thirty miles from Hunt's junction on a deck bridge forty feet high There is comparatively little bridging on the line, the policy of the company being to fill ravines and gulches in preference to trestling them Bridging has been resorted to only when absolutely necessary for drainage purposes or when fills exceed thirty five feet in depth Two summits are encountered between Hunt's junction and Walla Walla, viz Between Hunt's junction and Touchet river, and between Touchet river and Dry creek, both of which are surmounted by the use of a maximum grade of 1 per cent both ways Two miles above Hunt's junction the road enters Columbia hollow, which it ascends to the head a distance of ten miles, when it enters Eureka flat one of the finest wheat sections in the world At Eureka Junction (twenty two miles from Hunt's junction) a branch road continues up the flat a distance of twenty two miles, the main line descending to the Touchet river From Hunt's junction to the head of Eureka flat a distance of forty two miles but one bridge is required, and that a trestle fifty feet in length

The grading up Columbia hollow was quite heavy though comparatively little rock work was encountered On Touchet river was one mile of quite heavy rock work The alignment on the Walla Walla division is exceptionally good This division will probably be extended to Whetstone hollow this season via Waitsburg and Dayton The distance from Walla Walla to Waitsburg is miles to Dayton miles and to Whetstone hollow 45 miles The line was located and full the maximum grade is 85 feet per mile the alignment being good except in two or three instances where 10 deg curves were required Between Walla Walla and Waitsburg eight trestles will be required varying in height from 10 to 80 feet Between Waitsburg and Dayton will be two crossings of the Touchet river, the line following the valley of this river between these two towns From Walla Walla to Waitsburg the line is located about half way between the O R & N Co's railroad and the foot hills of the Blue mountains and passes through a continuous wheat field to Whetstone hollow C M B

A LETTER FROM SOUTHERN OREGON

The People of Jacksonville Not Wholly Despondent Because They Failed to Get a Wagon Road

JACKSONVILLE, February 27

All nature is reveling in most glorious sunshine, and balmy breezes are heralding the approach of early springtime in Southern Oregon's most favored climate, the roads are fine and one's mind reverts unconsciously to Moore's fabled vale of Cashmere and Lallah Rookh's poetic journey until forcibly recalled to the consideration of things terrestrial by the memory of our defeated wagon road bill, and that Jacksonville won't get a session of the supreme court We are truly thankful that Pennoyer and Washington are left us and that our state government runs on the eccentric

What a moral and intellectual vacuum must have fallen on the state capital since our representatives have hied them to their grateful constituencies. The legislature has accomplished its greatest good perhaps, in the interests of fruit-growers, for the fact is just now fully developing itself that our prolific orchards are suffering from pests, and the work of destroying and replanting, and the timely use of antidotes, has begun in earnest

All kinds of business shows signs of healthy activity, with real estate transactions governed by moderate and prosperous upward tendency The phenomenal prices obtained by sales the first few months after railroad connection has now settled down to legitimate values, and our population is steadily and permanently increasing with more than the average of intelligence and thrift

The religious element is enjoying unusual revival and in the towns and throughout the valley generally there have been many accessions to the church

The violent antagonism and competition between the old towns and the new has been measurably extinguished by the great increase of trade and profit, and the fact that there is room for us all In this pleasant valley is now quite apparent The fact that our town had the grace and dignity to modestly ask the state to assist in building our wagon road, shows conclusively that there is nothing stuck up about us If we are on the retired list and we did not get any worse left than Portland's Bull Run water bill swindle we are happy to be in such distinguished company

Captain James F Barnes who is known to every old pioneer for his bravery and generosity during Indian war times, is slowly dying of paralysis at the residence of James A Wilson in Jacksonville Many of the brave men who comprised his famous spy company, will drop a timely tear as the brave old veteran closes this last and most fiercely fought battle with the last earthly enemy and enlists under the banner of the great Jehovah Surrounded by every comfort his life bark is drifting on death's tempestuous tide from which no hand can save and no human aid rescue Peaceful and innocent in life, may the untried future be for him the dawning of an eternal joyous day Rest gentle spirit tender and true as sweetly under the evening dusk of spring time as the balmy zephyrs that fan the brow of an infant

Hon C C Beekman, wife and daughter returned home this week after a nine months tour through the Eastern states Professor B B Beekman, their son, a graduate of the State university, accompanies them He has just completed a post graduate course at Yale and Harvard and will spend a short vacation with friends and relatives at his old home in Jacksonville, where he laid the foundation of his intellectual achievements under the excellent direction of Professor Merritt All were warmly welcomed by a host of friends

Dr George Dellar a former resident of this place returned home this week accompanied by his wife and a little daughter who has been born to them during their absence East The doctor although a successful practitioner, only gives a part of his time to his profession and a part to travel and recreation

WHEAT—The market is dull and business light Interior holders of wheat will not sell at export prices, and with the weak market their firmness has driven vessels down and although we quote 40s as a nominal rate it is more than possible that a 37s 6d ship would go begging

FREIGHTS—The situation in freights is weak and with the long list of disengaged vessels in port there is no immediate chance of an improvement It was reported however to-day that two of the vessels on the disengaged list, the Samoa and Gartmore were chartered by foreign account at 50s although the consignees are in the dark and say that neither are so The nominal rate is 40s, although it is exceedingly doubtful whether any shipper in the city would give that The following vessels are loading wheat The M E Watson, 1570 tons, by C Cæsar & Co and City of Canton, 903 tons, by the Portland Shipping Company The Rathwell, 1296 tons—and Æolus, 1610 tons, are both taking cargoes of flour by the Portland Flouring Mills Company The City of Chistle is loading lumber at Astoria for Valparaiso. The following vessels are in port and disengaged The Gartmore 1025 tons consigned to Corbitt & Macleay C S. Hulbert, 1030 tons to Sutton & Beebe Fiery Cross, 1329 tons to Balfour Guthrie & Co Adele 851 tons, to C Cæsar & Co and the Samoa, 1109 tons, to Meyer & Wilson The C S Bement, Auguste, Queen of Columbia and Brenhilda, are finishing or finished at Astoria.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 28.—Produce receipts past 24 hours included 1100 ctls wheat, 25 000 qr sks flour, 1200 sks potatoes, 1300 ctls barley

Freights—Vessels have been arriving quite freely for the past week, the following having been engaged prior to arrival to load grain for Cork U K, Havre or Antwerp Br ships Benicia iron 1810, at 40s Cumberland, iron 1798 at 40s Flintshire, iron 1220 at 40s Golgate, iron 2291, at 38s 9d, Dumbretten, iron, 1471, at 40s Dunfillan iron, 1244, at 37s 6d, Cambrian Princess, iron 1340, at 41s 3d Br barks King Malcolm, iron, 1256, at 35s Highland Light, iron, 1258, at 35s, Firth of Solway iron, 1243, at 27s 6d for U K or Continent Ger bark Olga, iron 1338, 33s The spot charters for U K Havre or Antwerp were the wood n ships E B Sutton 1758 tons, and M P Grace 1863 tons, at 32s 6d and Henry B. Hyde 2463 tons at 35s. Br sh McFarlane iron 1509 tons at 36s 3d Br bk Albert William, iron 493 tons owner's account. The demand for vessels for outside loading continues fair Recent lumber charters include the ships Saetram, to load on Puget sound for West coast, and McNear Puget sound to Australia. The bark Elsinore was the last vessel chartered for coal loading, Seattle to this port.

Wheat—Compared with prices current this time last week values have appreciated about five cents per cental for spot deliveries, $1 40 being shippers present bids for standard shipping Holders are meeting buyers quite liberally at above quotation and considerable wheat has gone into the hands of exporters during the week The arrival of quite a large fleet of vessels engaged for grain loading prior to arrival causes a good demand for wheat and the market is firmer in consequence. In options a fair amount of business was done. The range of prices for buyer year wheat was $1 48¼@1 51 and for buyer season $1 45⅝@1 47⅞ To-day's sales, morning session, were 2400 tons buyer year at $1 50¼ 300 tons at $1 50⅜. Buyer season $1 47⅛. Seller year new $1 31.

Afternoon session—Buyer year opened $1 50 closed, $1 50¼.

Barley—The market has a steady tone although the movement is not of an important character Recent rains caused many buyers to hold off with the expectation that prices would decline but the rain was of short duration and values were well maintained Choice feed descriptions are well held at 81¼@82½c Common feed ranges from [illegible]c to 80c. Brewing 90c@$1 02½.

Futures are proportionately [illegible] higher than spot samples and trading is slow Buyer season sold to-day at 85¼c

Oats—Receipts from Oregon and other outside ports during the past week were some 7000 centals. There is no improvement to note in values, as stocks show but little reduction The market has been almost uniformly in buyers favor Quote feed Choice $1 10 [illegible] common to fair $1@1 05 milling, $1 10@1 15.

Hops—Telegraphic advices report more activity at slight advance over last week's quotations Locally but little business is passing [illegible] to light stocks much of inferior quality [illegible] article would fetch 15@16½c Quote all [illegible] 10 @16½c.

Millstuffs—The demand is steady and supplies sufficiently large to keep prices from advancing Bran, all kinds $15@15 50 middlings, $16@17 [illegible]

Wool—Very quiet Stocks about cleaned up Eastern Oregon 12@16c

Butter—In large supply from Eastern sources and prices [illegible] California roll 20@[illegible] good to choice [illegible]

HE MAKES A VIGOROUS KICK

What a Correspondent Has to Say About the City's Dumping Ground

PORTLAND Feb 27

To THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

Please allow North Portland suburbs to put in a complaint The dumpings of the city are creating such a horrible sickening smell here that we fear it will make us all sick We fear many of us that we will be compelled to give up our situations and take our families away from here The writer of this article was offered a fine building lot at a reasonable price and perhaps would have bought it had it not been for the close proximity of the dumping ground I would not have the lot as a gift and be compelled to live on it if the horrible stench that pervades the atmosphere is to continue

I will be safe in saying there are hundreds here that agree with me in wishing the city dads to take immediate steps to remove the cause of this sickening stench

Now gentlemen we extend a cordial invitation to you to come down some warm afternoon and take a smell, not snide with us You will then be prepared to take immediate action in the matter that is if the smell does not kill you

OREGON PRUNES

PORTLAND Or Feb [illegible]

To THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

We notice in your issue of the 27th in the local column an article under the head of Oregon prunes the best We also notice that your informant stated that foreign sell for about 6 cents per pound and the Oregon prunes for about 10 cents Leaving this article go to the public without an answer is doing the country an injustice There are tons and tons of Oregon prunes here now of the French and German varieties seeking a market at 5 and 6 cents per pound and Italian prunes of fancy pack at 8 cents per pound

We herewith enclose you an ad which you will please insert three times which will show the many readers what they can buy Oregon prunes at and we hope it will discourage the importation of the foreign article Yours truly H E BAFTIN & Co

With groans and sighs and dizzied eyes,
He seeks the couch and down he lies,
Nausea and faintness in him rise,
Brow racking pains assail him
Sick headache! But ere long comes ease
His stomach settles into peace,
Within his head the throbbings cease—
Pierce's Pellets never fail him!

Nor will they fail anyone in such a dire predicament. To the dyspeptic, the bilious and the constipated, they are alike "a friend in need and a friend indeed"

What Scott's Emulsion Has Done!

Over 25 Pounds Gain in Ten Weeks Experience of a Prominent Citizen.

THE CALIFORNIA SOCIETY FOR THE SUPPRESSION OF VICE
SAN FRANCISCO July 7th 1886

I took a severe cold upon my chest and lungs and did not give it proper attention; it developed into bronchitis, and in the fall of the same year I was threatened with consumption. Physicians ordered me to a more congenial climate, and I came to San Francisco. Soon after my arrival I commenced taking Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil with Hypophosphites regularly three times a day. In ten weeks my avoirdupois went from 155 to 180 pounds and over; the cough meantime ceased. C. R. BENNETT.

PRED'S MILL, TEXAS, June 20, 1888.—The Swift Specific Company, Atlanta, Ga.—Gentlemen: One of my children was troubled with rheumatism and boils for about two years. We gave her various kinds of medicine, but without profit, and began to despair of curing her at all. I was persuaded to try your Swift's Specific. After she had used several bottles the disease all disappeared, and she is now a hale, hearty and healthy girl twelve years old. Another child has just become afflicted in the same way and I am using the S. S. S. and anticipate a prompt and permanent cure. N. O. WAGGONER.

RICH HILL, Mo., July 7, 1888.—The Swift Specific Co. Atlanta, Ga.—Gentlemen: Our little girl when but three weeks old broke out with eczema. We tried the prescriptions from several good doctors, but without any special benefit We tried S. S. S. and by the time one bottle was gone her head began to heal, and by the time she had taken six bottles she was completely cured. Now she has a full and heavy head of hair—a robust hearty child I feel it but my duty to make this statement. Respectfully H T SHOBE.

CHATTANOOGA, TENN., June 27, 1888.—The Swift Specific Co. Atlanta, Ga.—Gentlemen: In 1886 I contracted blood poison and at once sought a physician, who treated me for several months By his advice I went to Crab Orchard Springs Ky where his course of treatment was carefully observed I recovered as I thought but the next spring pimples began to appear on my face and body These gradually increased to sores and running ulcers. I was advised to try S S S and immediately after taking it I commenced to improve, slowly at first but more rapidly afterwards and soon nothing remained to tell of my trouble. My blood is now thoroughly cleansed and my system free from taint and I owe my present condition—a perfect cure—to your medicine. I cheerfully give this statement that others who have suffered as I have may reap the same benefit. HARDY M. BURT 23 West Ninth St.

HOMER, LA., May 25, 1888.—The Swift Specific Co Atlanta Ga.—Gentlemen: About two years ago my general health gave way entirely I was so debilitated that I almost despaired of ever feeling well again. All that the physicians done for me brought no permanent relief Friends insisted that I should give S. S. S. a fair trial although I thought it would be throwing away money After taking a thorough course, my health and strength returned, and I must say that S. S. S. alone cured me as I discarded all others while using it As a tonic I can most heartily recommend it for general debility, it certainly is a specific. W F BRIDGES, J P

PROCEEDINGS IN COURTS.

The Wilcox-McIsaac Blackmail Case Now on Trial in No. 2.

A Borrower's Troubles—Libel Dismissed—A Fiasco—Discharged—Wants His Pay—Damage Suit—In Time—Litigation Notes.

The way of the borrower, at least in these days of Christian civilization, resembles greatly that of the transgressor.

W. D. Howe, a Western Union operator, lies in the county jail, in default of $500 bonds, set by Justice Phelan, on the charge of larceny of $65. Howe is one of many similarly situated clerks and operators, who have been in the habit of borrowing their monthly salaries in advance of Lent & McGrew, by giving them orders on their employers, which they discount for the borrower. There are few enterprises which will support a high rate of interest on borrowed capital, and housekeeping, or the expensive revels of a gay young clerk, are not of them. Accordingly it frequently happens that the best the borrower can do is to keep up the interest on his loan. Sometimes the formality of presenting the order is dispensed with, and the young man himself goes to the office and pays for an extension of his loan. It seems that Howe had been to unusual expense from visiting friends, etc., and had drawn part of his salary from the Western Union, so that when his month was nearly up (Wednesday) and Mr T. S. McDaniel, Lent & McGrew's bookkeeper presented the order at the Western Union he was told that the full amount was not due. Howe the borrower was promptly put in jail therefore and will stand trial to-day.

One gloomy feature in the case is that of late the bankers have been taking an additional writing of their client, by which he constitutes T. S. McDaniel his sole attorney to act in his stead and represent him. The phraseology of this power of attorney is a triumphant example of iron-clad legal verbiage. McDaniel's chief service to his client seems to be swearing out a warrant for his arrest. Howe's case will be eagerly watched by several young men about town who are in a similar predicament. One of them stated to a reporter yesterday that they pay all the way from 5 to 15 per cent. a month interest.

IT GETS INTO COURT

The long promised action against the Vancouver motor materialized yesterday in department No. 1 of the state circuit court.

J. M. McQuaid sues the Portland & Vancouver Railway Company for $2500 damages.

Mr McQuaid's complaint, which is quite voluminous, recites that since January 1 1888, the company has been a regularly organized corporation doing business in the county, and that since that same date he has been, and still is the owner of lots 7 and 8, in block 87, East Portland, on the west side of Third street, between E and F. He also owns, barring the public easement and highway rights, 50x100 feet on Third and E street. The complaint next sets forth the road's route through the city, and goes on to say that the company, in the construction of their line have "unlawfully, wrongfully, and without license or consent of plaintiff, and against his protest and remonstrance," without making any arrangement by which to secure him for damages sustained by him, occupied the 100 feet by him owned on Third street, and built above the grade of the street. They also laid their track in the shape of an "S" and so close to his lots that a wagon cannot pass without driving upon the curb. Mr McQuaid further states that he has improved his lots to the extent of $165, and that their business value is wholly destroyed, and their eligibility as residence property is seriously impaired. He alleges that the steam motor is falsely and fraudulently so-called, and that it is in fact an old and defective engine housed in. The smoke, cinders and noises which the motor gives out upon the air are also complained of.

THE LIBEL DISMISSED

The case of William Haughton vs. the British ship M. E. Watson was tried in the United States district court yesterday. Haughton sued for a balance of wages, which he claimed to be due him, stating that he shipped as steward, and that he had been required to wash the clothing of the captain's wife, which he had refused to do, whereupon he had been "sent forward" and forced to duty as a common seaman.

It was proved that Haughton was a quarrelsome, saucy fellow, and that he had not been asked to wash any clothing. He told the crew that he had been here before and knew the ropes, and should quit the ship here where he could get more wages. He was in trouble on his former visit here for stabbing a mate, and appears to be a sort of sea lawyer, one of those miserable malcontents who always stir up trouble on shipboard. His libel was dismissed and a decree given against him for costs. Captain Post is an American, but has commanded British ships for many years and has been accompanied by his wife for nineteen years.

STATE AGAINST WILCOX

This celebrated blackmail case came up before Judge Stearns yesterday, and will be resumed this morning. Wilcox and his co-defendant, McIsaac were in court, accompanied by their counsel. The forenoon was occupied in securing a jury, the regular panel being exhausted, and two special venires being required. The jury, as completed, is as follows: William Coburn, Samuel McKee, Almon Smith, S. A. Walters, J. S. Royal, D. M. Roberts, J. Kronenberg, George Hughes, George Ainslee, H. A. Bruce, J. W. Bailey, and Ira Russ.

Upon the arrival of the noon hour Judge Stearns announced that it being the desire of the attorneys in the case to attend the funerals of the late Messrs. Mulkey and Cartwright, the court would adjourn for the day and the trial be proceeded with this morning at 9:30 o'clock. The jury were instructed not to discuss the case among themselves or with outsiders.

LADD & TILTON VS. BATTELLE

Ladd & Tilton yesterday commenced suit in Justice Tuttle's court against Charles T. Battelle for the recovery of a promissory note for $100 given October 17 1888. The note was given for three months and was due November 18 last, but as no payment has yet been made plaintiffs sue for the face of the note $2.68 interest, and $10 attorney fees, making a total of $112.68. An attachment was served yesterday afternoon garnishing the defendant's wages as agent for the Southern Pacific Railway Company.

JUST IN TIME.

The notice of appeal in the case of Thomas Callahan vs the Portland & Willamette Valley railroad, was supplemented last evening just before the hour for closing the clerk's office, with an appeal bond, which stays the proceedings under which Sheriff Kelly would have to-day sold the Portland & Willamette Valley engine recently levied on. The amount involved is $401 odd and costs, and the case is the old Ray's Landing transfer boat bill of Mr Callahan.

BIG DAMAGE SUIT

The O. R. & N. Co is defendant to a suit which will be tried in Judge Shattuck's court to-day and by which James B. Woodward seeks to recover from them $25,700. Woodward was working as engineer for the company, and through their neglect he was severely injured in a collision which occurred January 12, 1884, between Grants and The Dalles. His injuries resulted in insanity and bodily disfigurements.

BOTH DISCHARGED

Late yesterday afternoon an end was reached in the Qualman-Francis quarrel in Justice Phelan's court, by the discharge of both. E. A. Francis caused young Qualman to be arrested on a charge of attempting to steal the same watch which Francis is alleged to have stolen. Qualman promised that an end to the quarrel has not been reached, but that he will have Francis apprehended for vagrancy.

WANTS PAY FOR HIS BUTTER.

John Klosterman brings action to recover a balance of $55 from W. D. Pine and his wife, who keep the Central hotel, alleged to be due on goods sold. The plaintiff's statement is that Pine has used the butter up and now refuses to pay for it. A garnishment was served upon John Slifeld, who is holding $70 for the order of Justice Phelan's court. Hearing of the case was set for Tuesday at 2 P. M.

ANOTHER FIASCO

Fred D. Love will have to pay the costs of his complaints against Louis Kim for selling liquor to young Mowdy. It seems that the boy drank nothing but soda water in the saloon, and that the license used in the place is issued to a different member of the Kim family. The chief interest now is to find Love, who does not make himself as numerous as before he was taxed for the costs.

POLICE COURT

Judge Tanner disposed of the following cases in the police court yesterday afternoon: J. M. Boyle and Hugh McClaren drunk fined $5 each. Luke Masterson same. E. L. Patilla and H. B. Howard same $10 each. Mike Boyle same passed till this afternoon. Frank Dowling using abusive language to Emil Webber continued one day.

NEW INCORPORATION

The Philosophical Spiritual Association incorporated with the county clerk yesterday. Their assets are estimated at $100 and their purposes to conduct all necessary or proper business transactions in the way of investigating and exemplifying spiritual phenomena.

THREATENING TO KILL.

Mrs. B. Gaffney yesterday caused the arrest of Thomas Gaffney, her husband on a charge of threatening to kill. Hearing was set for 9:30 o'clock this morning.

DECLARED HIS INTENTION

RESULT OF A COMBINATION

The Cause of the Increase of Passenger Rates Between Portland and Astoria.

The increase in passenger rates between this city and Astoria is the result of a combination between the O. R. & N. Co. and Captain Scott, of the Telephone which virtually ends the career of the Telephone as an opposition boat. There has been no increase in the rates for freight, as was stated yesterday through a misunderstanding. Carrying passengers from Portland to Astoria for 75 cents, or the round trip for $1, has not been a remunerative business, and Captain Scott has grown weary of it. The Telephone and the company's boats will hereafter run in harmony and tickets bought for one boat will be good for any of them.

Beginning to-day, the combination will run the S. G. Reed, Telephone and Bonita, thus making these three boats do the work of five and the steamers Willamette Chief and Mountain Queen will be laid up until further orders. A boat will leave Portland every morning at 7 o'clock and one at 8 o'clock in the evening of every day in the week, except Wednesday and a boat will leave Astoria every evening at 8 o'clock, except Tuesday and another at 7 o'clock every morning of the week.

This will afford every requisite facility for traveling between the two cities and it cannot be fairly claimed that the new rates are unreasonable.

DREDGING THE RIVER

Proposal for a Local Fund. Doubts About the Strength of the City Dredge

In conversation with a well known citizen yesterday the subject of dredging the river came up.

"I understand," said he, "that the matter of providing a permanent fund for dredging the river will come up before the board of trade soon. The impression seems to be growing that the access of vessels to Portland should not be dependent upon the work of the government. Without undertaking to criticise the work of the government, or the officers charged with the execution of the appropriations it is nevertheless true that as long as these appropriations are subject to the impulses of the national congress the maintenance of a deep river from here to the sea should be put upon a local and unfailing basis.

"For $5000 a year the river could be annually dredged so that no ships which would come to the Columbia need lighter or be delayed by low tides.

"It is doubtful if the city dredge is strong enough to do the work on the Columbia. That is, its hull is said to be in bad order. A large new dredge ought to be built to cost something like $60,000. This expense could very properly be borne by the state and the dredge loaned by the state to the city. It could then be put to work with propriety upon the Columbia.

"A dredge owned by the city, or by it operated, could be easily kept in repair all the time. One of the greatest drawbacks the government encounters is the irregularity of appropriations, which has been disastrous in its effects upon dredging operations. A dredge which is allowed to lie idle for a year or two gets in a bad state for work, while if in use constantly it is always in trim for use. Besides a dredge could be made to pay for itself in being leased to private parties who would want it to improve their own waters and landings. The river here could be cleaned out and the deposit used to fill up the lowlying lands along the shore.

RESCUED FROM A DRUNKEN FATHER

Mollie Sahlinger Is Given a Good Home by the Boys and Girls' Aid Society

The Boys and Girls Aid Society yesterday took charge of Mollie Sahlinger, the 14-year-old daughter of J. G. Sahlinger, a hard drinking liquor soaked tailor keeping a small dirt begrimed shop on Fourth street, near Salmon. Mollie's mother has been dead for some time and she had lived with her drunken and abusive father until she could stand it no longer.

Wednesday morning she was seen crying in a pitiful condition in the hallway of the house the greater portion of which is rented out to lodgers. Being asked what was the cause of her weeping she replied that her brutal father had beaten her and then thrown her out of the house forbidding her to enter the threshold of his door again.

"Why don't you do something to help yourself?" was asked her.

"I would," she muttered out between the gaspings of a sorrowful wail. "If some one would get a policeman I would have him arrested."

She was befriended by one of the women living on the upper floor and, in some manner, word was sent to Ira F. Powers of the Boys and Girls Aid Society. Mr Powers interested himself in the unfortunate girl and with an officer made an investigation. Mollie poured out her tale of sorrow without hesitation and told of the abuses and insults she had been subjected to by the cruel treatment of the drunken reprobate who called himself her father. She was only too anxious to get away and gladly accompanied the officer who took her to a new home in a good family in the suburbs of the city.

The only reason that Mollie submitted so long to her father's conduct was owing to her ignorance.

A brother of Mollie Moses, left his home here some time last summer, after having lived with his father just as long as his indulgence and forbearance permitted him. He is now in Chicago, and would no doubt, soon have sent for his sister had the old gent's abuses not reached a climax resulting in the Boys and Girls Aid Society assuming charge of her.

THE NEXT ATTRACTIONS

The Bloodhounds This Evening—Joe Emmett in His Dialect Specialties

McFadden's Uncle Tom Company will appear at the New Park theatre to-night. This will be the first appearance of the McFadden company for five years and the first appearance here of the Putnam twin sisters. These little ladies are said to be exceedingly bright. A matinee for the little ones will be given to-morrow (Saturday) at 2 P. M. Prices for children 25 cents, adults 50 cents. The following is from a leading paper of Los Angeles:

Among the six trained bloodhounds coming with the Boston Double Uncle Tom's Cabin will appear the famous dog Tiger. Tiger is a monster beast and once belonged to Jarrett & Palmer, of New York. He has been twice across the waters to Europe and has an eventful history. Tiger is well trained and will be seen in his great act at the performance next Friday evening.

It is the rocky pass scene when Eliza and her child are escaping among the rocks. In this act this monster beast with muzzle off springs upon his victim (a colored slave) dashes him to the ground, and one would naturally think the slave was being torn to pieces, but he always manages to get around to a good square meal next morning.

Speaking of J. K. Emmett the Cincinnati Commercial Gazette says:

Joe Emmett, the same light-hearted merry Fritz appeared at the Grand last night. Just as young and sweet of voice as ever, bubbling by melodiously like a song memory of the past. There was a vast audience assembled, and one quite as responsive as ever honored Fritz by its applause. Its people recognized at once that magnetic influence that in this actor all seem to have agreed to worship. What a striking and remarkable character is Emmett at any rate. How marked his individuality and how lasting his hold upon the public. If he has aged any it was not apparent last evening, nor has he deteriorated any in voice, nor lost any of the elasticity of step. He sang and danced just as of old carrying his audience to that pitch that has very rarely been re-demanded. Mr Emmett presented the original Fritz, the best and most successful of all his plays and it may be said that those who saw him last evening saw him at his best.

His supporting company was very good, some one or two of its individuals demanding special mention.

The prices for Mr Emmett will not be raised but will remain as usual. Gallery 25 cents balcony 50 cents and lower part of the house $1.

THE GOVERNOR'S MOTIVE

CELILO, Or., Feb 26

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

Although Governor Pennoyer would have the people of Oregon believe his motive in vetoing Senator Sinclair's fish bill was a pure and unselfish one, it is the reverse, for it is a well known fact that for the past twenty years the sawdust from his mill has killed more salmon yearly than has been caught by all contrivances this side of Astoria. If the governor will examine the wording of senate bill No 1 ... where fishing on Saturdays is unlawful he will find the fishing season was not so much enlarged as he would try to have people believe. His aim is to give the whole fishing interests of the Columbia river into the hands of the Fisherman's union, where the most votes are, and let the ferry ... be in the river carry away the sawdust from where it is deposited for that purpose.

PORTLAND'S BIG SUBURB.

Commutation Tickets on the Bridges and Ferries To Be Abolished.

Engine Being Repaired—More Buildings Contemplated—Street Contracts—A Commotion—Industries—Notes

From March 1 there will be an entire change on all the ferries and bridges in relation to monthly tickets. These will be discontinued entirely from the first of the month. This will be quite a change as there is a large number of people who have been in the habit of procuring monthly tickets. No material change has been made in the fare charged.

East side people claim that the bridges and ferries ought to sell monthly tickets particularly to working people at rates a good deal less than full fares. In the long run it is beyond question they will find it to their advantage to do so.

In consequence of the change being made whereby no monthly tickets will be issued on the ferries and bridges it is proposed by those who do business in Portland and reside on the East side to organize a club and operate a boat. A meeting will be held somewhere Monday night and preliminary action will be taken.

It is also stated that a petition will be presented to the county court for some sort of intervention.

RAISED A COMMOTION

From a gentleman in from the country the particulars of the actions of three young men in Powell's valley are obtained. William Holt, E. Kelly and H. C. Harris got full one day last week, made themselves very numerous and raised a great commotion among those residing along the Powell's valley road. They were boisterous yelling and swearing at people as they rode along the road. They were arrested and brought before Justice Roberts at Pleasant Home. The cases of Kelly and Harris were adjourned to East Portland while Holt had his trial before Roberts which resulted in his being fined $20 and costs. It was paid by his friends and he was discharged. After his trial the informant states Holt ... tried ... to ... the court ... but better judgment prevailed and no trouble ensued. ... is considerable ... feeling in the neighborhood over the affair.

CHANGES PROPOSED

Several important changes are proposed in the ordinance concerning the letting of contracts for the improvement of streets. The way it now is one block may be contracted for to the middle of the street. It is proposed to make a change so that one contract will take in the entire street for two blocks. This will lessen the number of contracts, while it will not work any hardship on anyone. If the property holders desire to do the work themselves they may combine and bid in the work. It is very frequently the case that a street will be improved on one side, while the opposite side will be incomplete. The new plan will necessitate the completion of the work for at least two whole blocks before the work can be accepted. It is believed that the proposed change will be very advantageous and an improvement on the old method.

CONTEMPLATED BUILDINGS

Besides the new hotel there will be several brick buildings put up this year in East Portland. Ben West has commenced clearing the grounds for a two-story brick on Fourth between M and N which will be occupied as a hardware store. Gus Strube and W. H. Payne are seriously contemplating the erection of a brick on their property on I, between Fourth and Fifth. If things look sufficiently bright a brick will be put on the southeast corner of Fifth and I streets. These are a few of the buildings contemplated.

REPAIRING THE ENGINE.

The small engine that was procured from the narrow gauge railway by the Portland & Vancouver railroad is now being given a thorough overhauling on Water street near the repair and carpenter shop. This engine was not considered of much value when she was brought to this side and put on the Vancouver line but very good work has been done by her.

IMPORTANT INDUSTRIES

E. A. Rankin of Fairview has just arranged for a large cream separator and ordered a new boiler and engine for his cheese factory. Roper & Co. of Troutdale will soon commence the erection of a factory for condensing milk. It is expected to be in running operation by April. There is no reason why these important enterprises will not succeed.

PERSONAL AND GENERAL

J. L. Sperry and W. H. Moore are mentioned for school directors.

Mrs. R. L. Hawthorne who at present is in Paris expects to start for home in June.

Miss Campbell from this day on will be pleased to meet her many friends at the new cloak and suit house of Mellis & Co. 16 Third street.

H. B. Grantham a practical brickmaker is endeavoring to secure a location for a brick yard in East Portland. He desires to secure the block on Fourth and U streets for this purpose.

A mocking bird that evidently had escaped from some one's cage attempted to enter Camerons store yesterday. It fluttered about the upper part of the door in a bewildered state for quite a while.

Mr. S. F. Dunning drove out to Mount Tabor yesterday and while there he saw a peach tree in full bloom. It is rather early for peach blossoms to make their appearance and it is very likely the blooms will be nipped.

Mr. R. W. Westlake bookkeeper for Staver & Walker Portland will remove his family to East Portland the coming week. Mrs. Westlake is leader of the choir of the St. Lawrence church of Portland and will be an addition to the musical circle of East Portland.

ALBINA NEWS ITEMS

Various Notes Gathered by "The Oregonian's" Correspondent

The social given by the Baptist Ladies Aid Society Wednesday evening, at Hill's hall was a very enjoyable affair. It was given by that society for the benefit of the Baptist Mission Sunday school and not by the Sunday school as some were led to suppose thus accounting for the short programme of exercises that were rendered favorably during the evening. Albina as usual turned out to help a good cause, and the hall was filled to overflowing. One and all declared that they had not spent such a sociable evening for a long time before. The receipts were much more than expected and will be used to pay off some outstanding debts and the balance will be expended for the best advantage of the Sunday school.

At a meeting of the fire men Wednesday evening the foreman of the company reported that on examining the fire plugs he found them in an unsatisfactory condition as the pressure of water was not strong enough to force a stream. In some places out of the hydrant. The company requested the foreman to communicate with the city council notifying them of the state of the hydrants.

Mr. A. Wilson living on Gibbs street died suddenly Monday morning after a short illness. He complained of pain in the chest Sunday afternoon, and Monday morning before the neighbors could be summoned he expired. He leaves a wife and a large family of small children. The funeral took place Tuesday afternoon from the residence.

It is a fact and worthy of notice that the late legislature passed a law forbidding cigarettes or tobacco to be sold to minors. On the streets can be seen a great many urchins of all sizes whiffing away at a cigarette who are constant smokers. It is hoped that as soon as the law is enforced that this evil will be abated.

The ferryboat Vesta has been transferred to Vancouver to take the place of the ferryboat Albina No. 2 which will be brought here for repairs.

The drawing for Father Van Ilm's baby carriage took place Monday evening at J. E. Fitzpatrick's store. The lucky number was 363.

Praise service will be held this (Friday) evening at Hill's hall. Prof Wilder, of Portland, will conduct the singing.

A new residence is being built on Russell street, opposite the Albina schoolhouse.

Mr Truman of the firm of Acorn & Truman has been very ill.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ABSOLUTELY PURE.

For quick raising, the Royal Baking Powder is superior to all other leavening agents. It is absolutely pure and wholesome and of the highest leavening power. It is always uniform in strength and quality and never fails to make light, sweet, most palatable and nutritive food. Bread, biscuits, muffins, cake, etc. raised with Royal Baking Powder may be eaten hot without distressing results to the most delicate digestive organs. It will keep in any climate without deterioration.

Prof. H. A. Mott, U. S. Government Chemist, after examining officially the principal baking powders of the country reported:

"The Royal Baking Powder is absolutely pure, for I have so found it in many tests made both for that company and the United States Government.

"Because of the facilities that company have for obtaining perfectly pure cream of tartar, and for other reasons dependent upon the proper proportions of the same, and the method of its preparation, the Royal Baking Powder is undoubtedly the purest and most reliable baking powder offered to the public.
